FOREWORD

In offering to the students and friends of Holy Redeemer this fifth volume of the Campanile, we aim to realize the double objective of recording the events of the past scholastic year and to interpret for them one of the fundamentals of education found in the proper employment of leisure time.

Every effort has been expended to place in the hands of Redeemer students another memory book, in some humble way, comparable with those of former years.

The lesson intended by this little volume will be found in the many illustrations constituting the art work of the book, all of which strive to emphasize the value of good, healthy and intelligent reading done in the sanctum of the home during the quiet hours when life's absorbing bustle leaves one to the serene happiness of a well earned leisure.

The approval and appreciation with which former editions of the Campanile were greeted give us sufficient presumption to hope that this offspring of our initiative will be received with a wee bit of kindness in your welcome.

Ave Atque Vale

Priest who art dedicated
Forever to thy Lord,
Well hast thou served thy Maker;
Thy works point heaven-ward.
Shepherd of human beings,
A father, brother, friend,
Guardian of our spirits—
Our Pastor to the end!

In Memoriam

Ere further through this memory book we page,
A moment let us linger with a mind
To say the tender sorrow which we find
For one who left so soon, this pilgrimage.
A joyful, cheerful, carefree friend we mourn
And sorely grieve the manner of his death.
A threnody we sing with prayerful breath
And know his friendship still our lives adorn.

—Class of '31

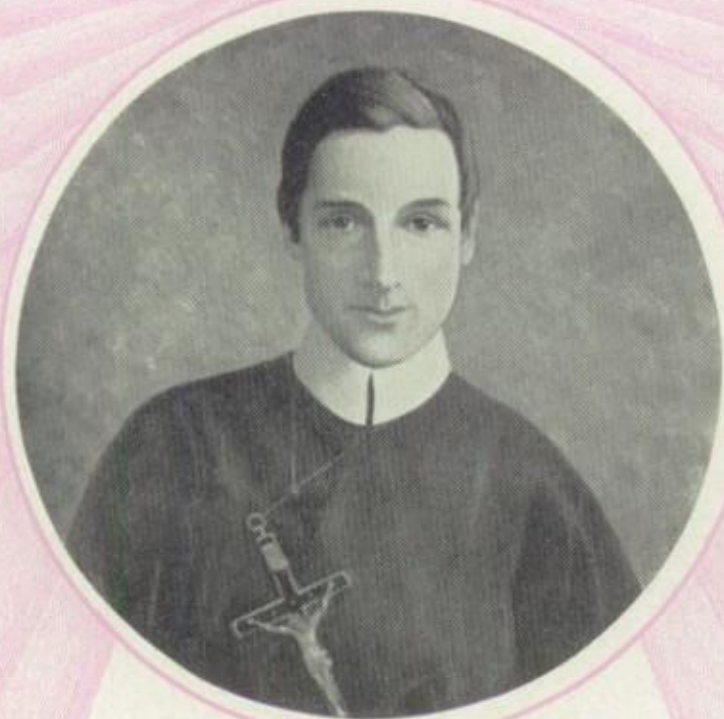

WILLIAM JOSEPH CHAMINADE
Founder of the Society of Mary.

Dedication

Feeling that in no other way might we better express our most loyal and grateful sentiments to our teachers, guides and friends, the Brothers of the Society of Mary, we, the graduating class of 1931, beg to offer this book of memories to the Venerated Founder of their Society, the Reverend William Joseph Chaminade.

Joining with them we express our hopes in confident prayer that God will deign to grant the sincere and earnest request that the cause of his Beatification be promoted and advanced for the glory of Holy Mother Church and for the happiness, satisfaction, and veneration of the Society of Mary.

LOUIS FLORENT GILET
Founder of the Sisters, Servants
of the Immaculate Heart of Mary

Dedication

It is with the keenest sense of appreciation and with the most sincere sentiments of gratitude that we, the girl graduates of the Class of 1931, dedicate this, our little Missionary, to him who was the saintly and heroic Founder of that noble and inspiring band of Religious Women, the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

May the spirit of his Faith and the constancy of his virtues continue to be the guiding principles leading his remarkable Foundation to greater endeavors, and may even more prosperous successes attend its wonderful work of earnest example along the path of Catholic Education.

School Entrance

These doors have been for us as the cover of a book. Turning them back we have entered to read on the page of each day the Nobility of Life, the Beauty of Virtue, the Reward of Endeavor, and the Providence of God.

Church Entrance

From classroom to sanctuary we pass as, from chapter to chapter, we are brought to complete the plan of our course. Kneeling, we pray at the feet of Our Master, begging to learn from the Book of His Heart—Knowledge, Piety, and Fear of the Lord.

Auditorium Entrance

Beyond the cover of this other book we see in retrospective panorama the scenes that long will live with us as cherished memories. Upon its tinted pages are portrayed the beauty of the drama, the spirit of athletic rallies, the volley of debate, the glory and the joy of graduation.

Gymnasium Entrance

A new and beautiful entrance then admits us to the realm and story of athletic valor. "Mens sana in corpore sano" are the words we find within the preface, while the contents treat at length of contests fought with vigor to uphold the glory of traditions, the inheritance of a noble name.

Sisters' Convent

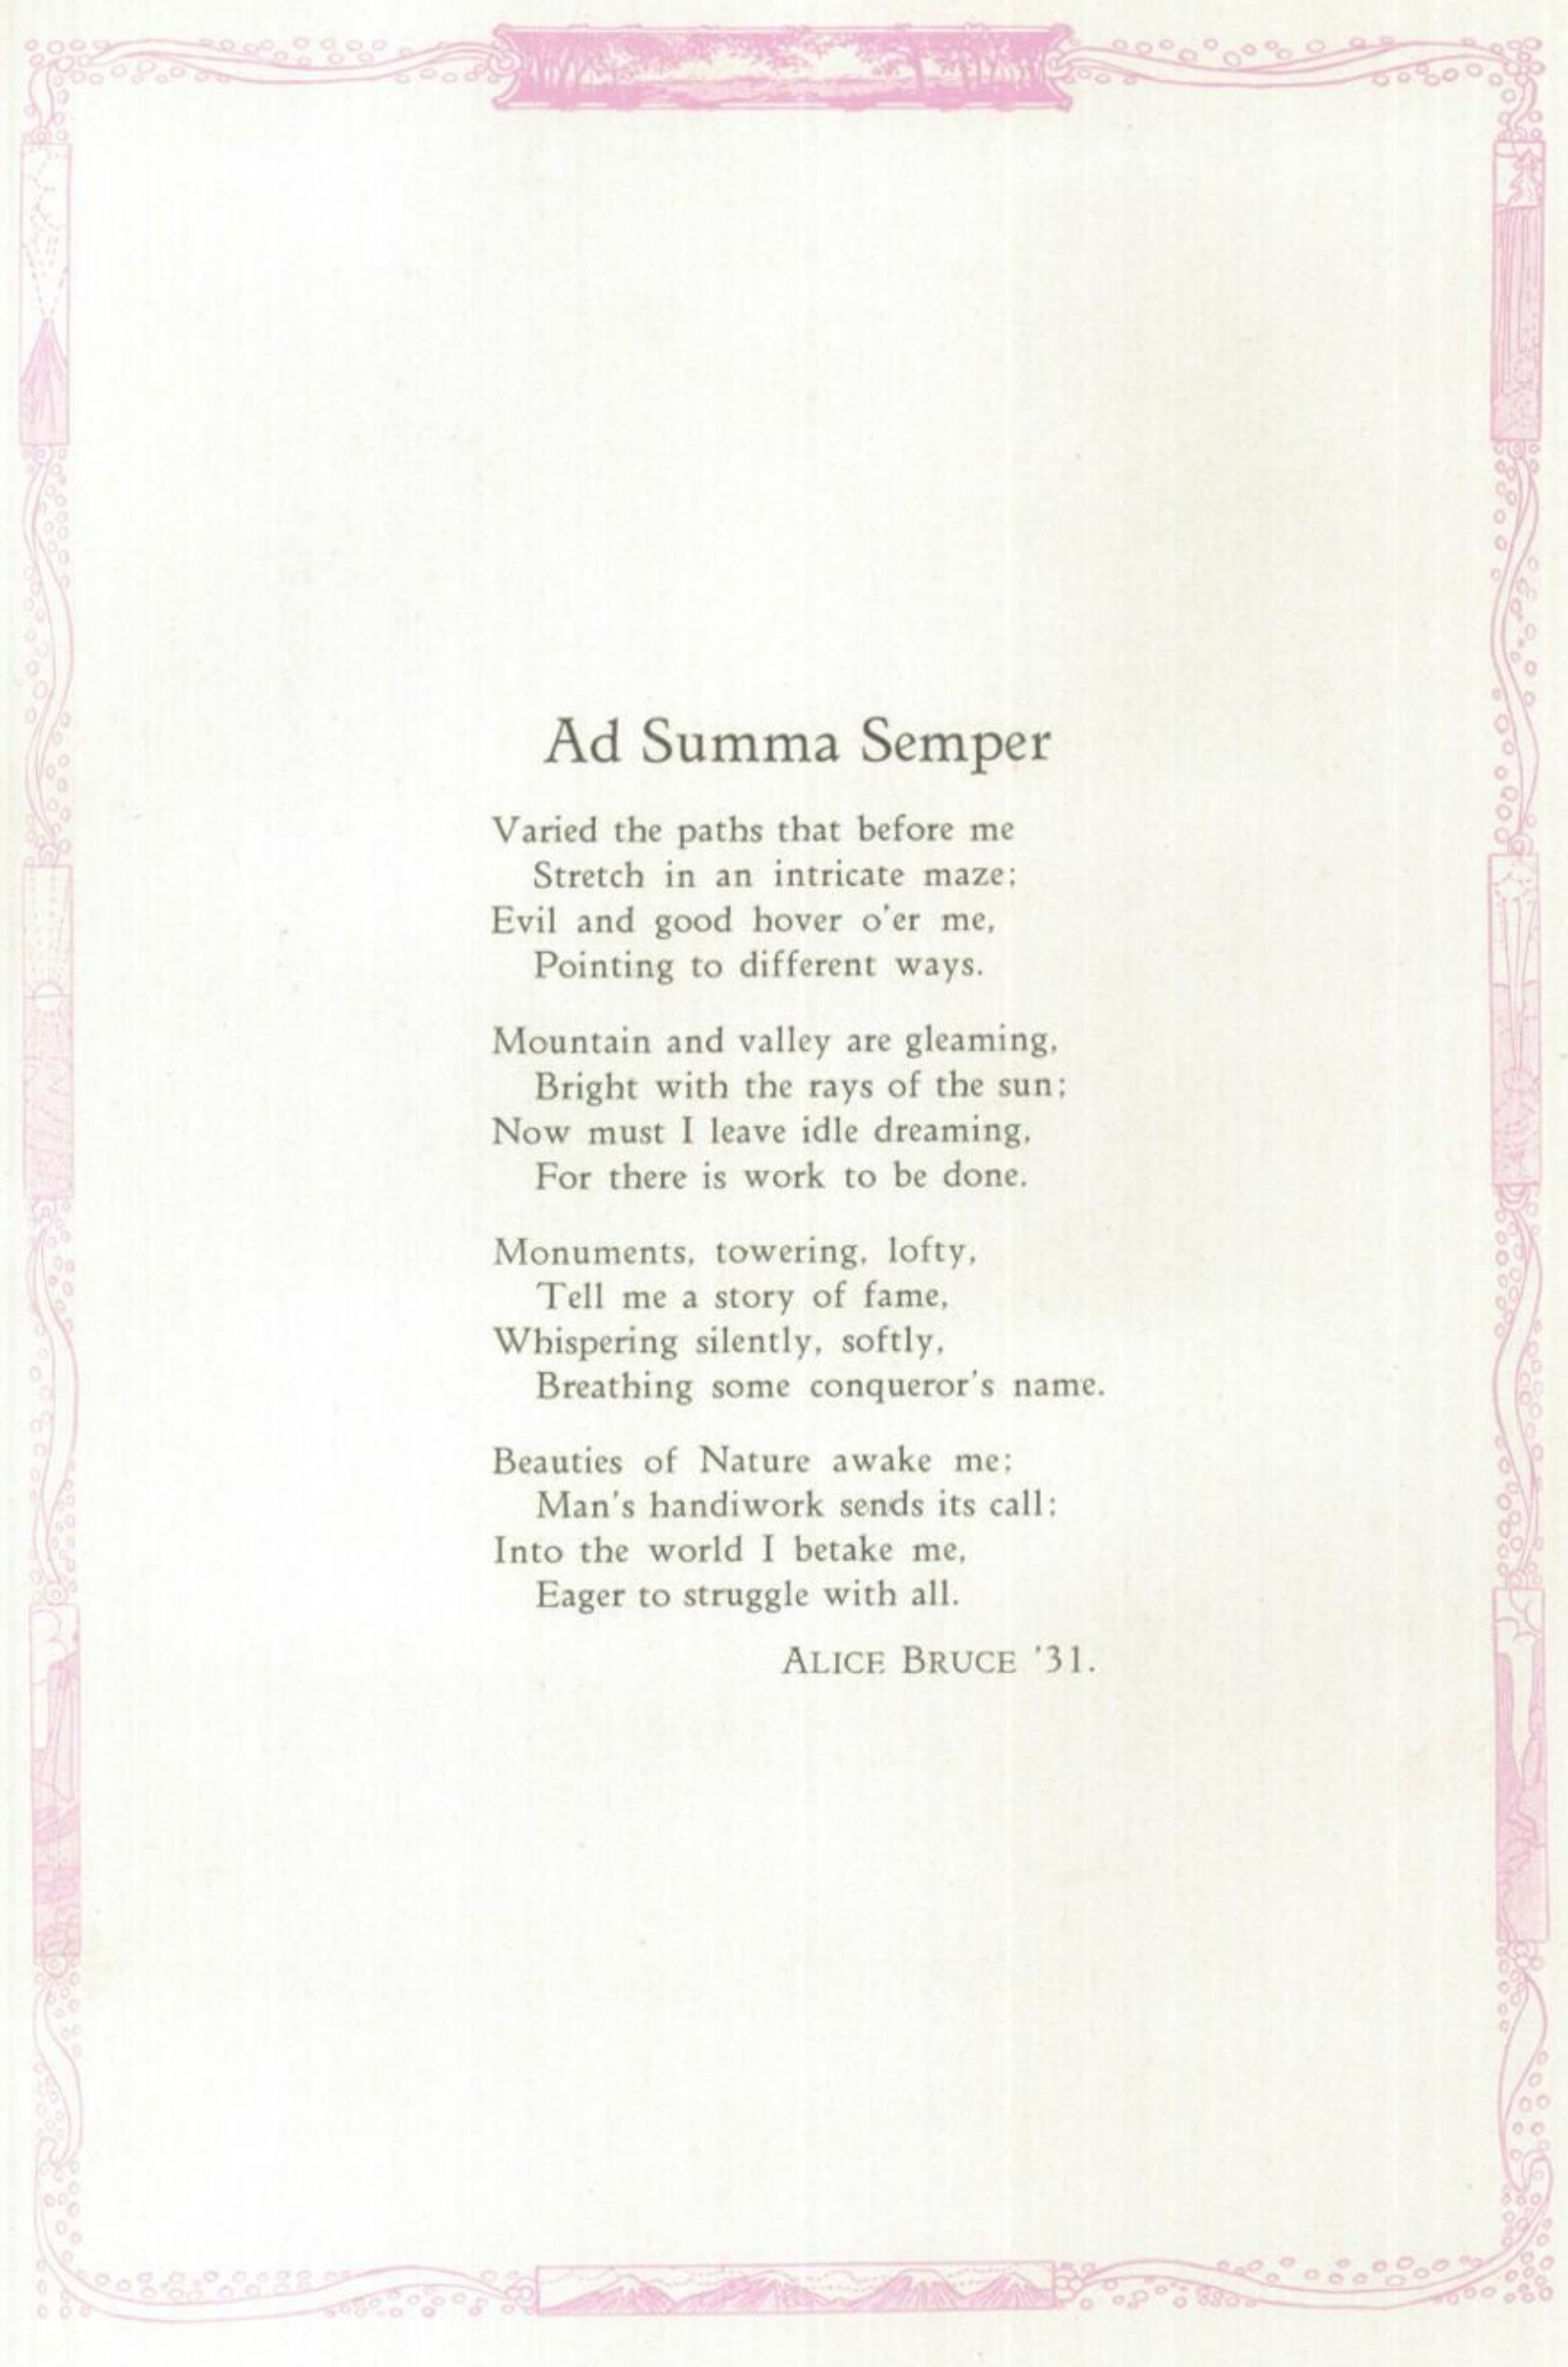

A refreshingly quiet book is this whose pages gleam with peace and holy happiness. The din and turmoil of a vain and hollow worldliness is lost within the sanctum of its quietude, while affected artificialities of mundane flauntings pale to the likeness of empty baubles in the air of its simplicity.

Brothers' Residence

Finally, we come before the portal of this humble volume and turning back the pretty little cover, enter in upon the threshold of a story told of those who live unselfishly within the shadow of a greedy world while ostentation, pomp, and gaudy glory strut about quite foolishly and pass unnoticed.

Ad Summa Semper

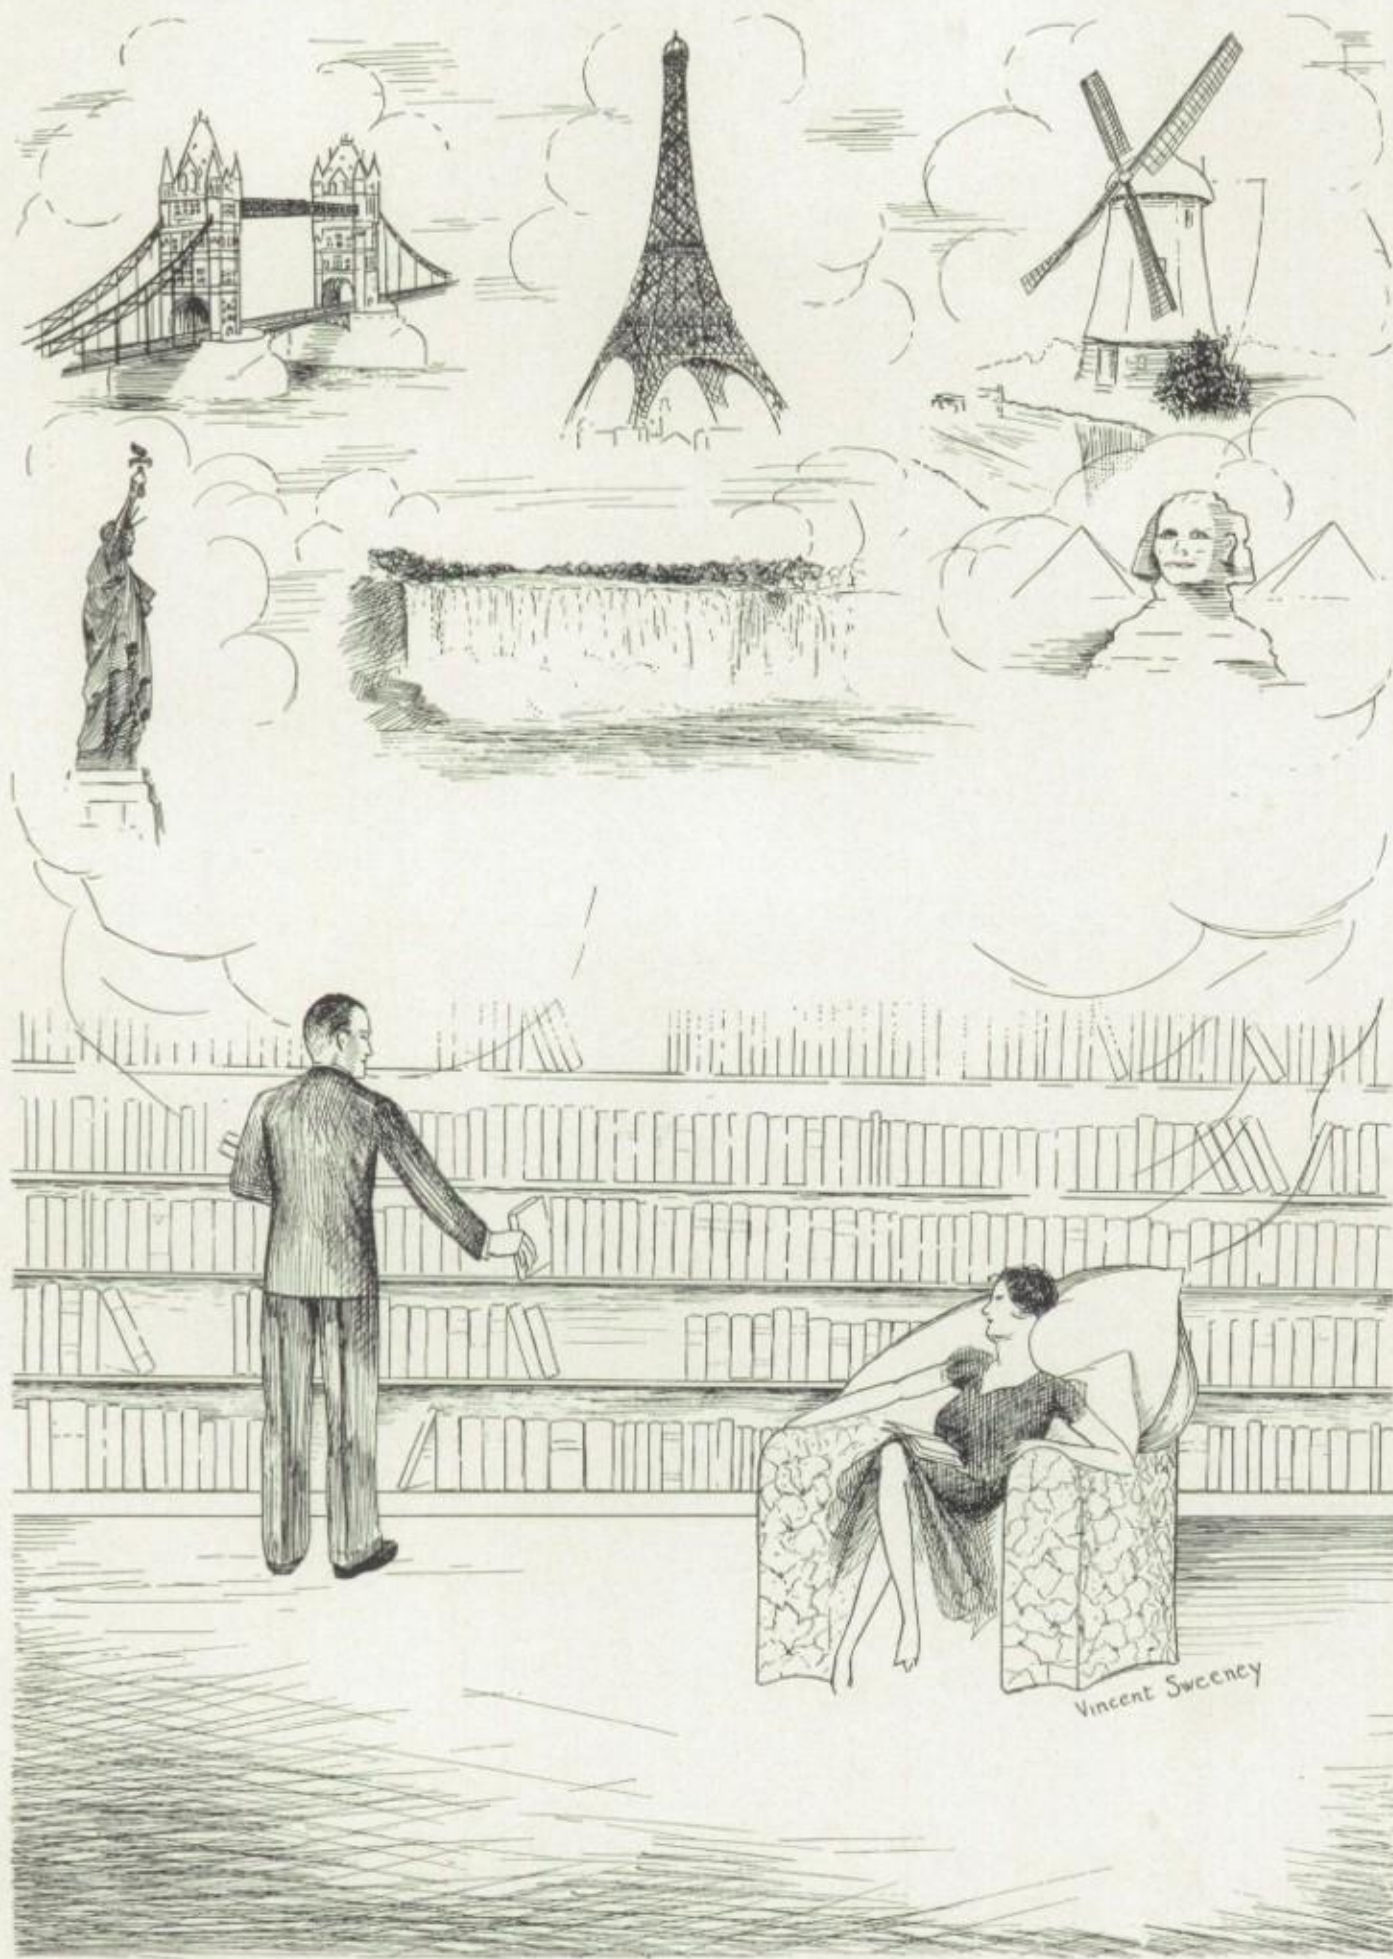

Varied the paths that before me
Stretch in an intricate maze;
Evil and good hover o'er me,
Pointing to different ways.

Mountain and valley are gleaming,
Bright with the rays of the sun;
Now must I leave idle dreaming,
For there is work to be done.

Monuments, towering, lofty,
Tell me a story of fame,
Whispering silently, softly,
Breathing some conqueror's name.

Beauties of Nature awake me;
Man's handiwork sends its call;
Into the world I betake me,
Eager to struggle with all.

Senior Boys' Class History

Prologue

Oblivion's ruthless waves on mem'ry's shore
From Time's inception misty, cruelly beat,
Eroding coasts of Man's frail deeds of yore
Have made to black, infinite space retreat
Accounts and names of men who once had dwelt,
And toiled on earth, and now, unknown, repose.
But some unyielding banks the waves repelled,
And stood as monuments reminding those
Of future time, that certain men once lived,
Accomplished deeds that made their names far-famed.
Though well we know our petty acts will give
No force 'gainst Nature's ceaseless toll: will claim
For us no right to immortality,
We of the class of THIRTY-ONE are feign
To think them worthy of a history.

Freshman

It was but four short years ago
A hundred forty three small boys
All entered, timidly and slow,
To them this Latin, History,
Exacting Mathematic too
Were subjects very minatory.
But Brother Andrew Condron proved,
With Brother Elmer Lackner's aid,
They were not quite so difficult.
A real thrill to us then came
As we all helped the Lions exult
—Victorious in their attacks
For state and city Football crown.
With Spring again came baseball, Track—
The latter novel on our grounds.
And at the year's successful close,
Our teams and Lester A. McRae,
Succeeding Richard Pflaum as coach
Were feted in a wondrous way.
Religious sentiments all wrought
Three Brothers' kind instructions wise,
And Father McEnirry's talks
Who followed Father Dunne in guise
Of Pastor to our Parish state,
Novenas in our Mary's name,
Were sources of undying grace.
So we first shared Redeemer's fame,
As Freshman small and full of pride
And looking on with eager eyes.

Sophomore

Returning soon as Sophomores,
One-hundred-twenty-five
Were gathered in the corridors
Of our attractive, new-built school,
—A monument—a parish pride!
Acquaintance with the tenth grade work
Was made quite easy, as our guides
Were Brothers Joseph Goedert
And Edward Hayward. Foreign here
Were Public Speaking and Debates,
Both being introduced this year.
But ere a very later date,
Debating teams were quickly formed,
While we displayed forensic traits.
With heated words we loudly stormed
Against the change of street car rates.
A very pleasant year was marred
When we received the shocking news
That Death had claimed a mate of ours
And Nestor Villerot we rue.
Once more the Lions win! For them
The fourth successive Football Cup!
The banquet at the season's end
Left us with pride and marvel struck,
—Inspiring talks, much food, and praise
Of our triumphant far-famed team.
Thus we passed this second stage,
Then well engulfed in High School's stream;
We sought those distant, shining shores
Called "graduation"—"Seniors."

Senior Boys' Class History

Junior

As forty-seven Juniors
Now dignified and wise, we glanced,
Amused, at our inferiors
Who thought we were in some strange trance.

Then Brothers Leo Madison
And Anthony Saletel both
Assuming charge, the work begun.
We pored o'er works of Cicero;
Explored the realms of Chemistry;
And soon could say, "Wir sprechen Deutsch."

A great dispute, a new melee
Occurred when we all fought for choice
Of class rings for the Junior year
And finally adopted one.

Our thoughts to heaven were upreared
Devotion was the medium;
A mission preached this year in March,
Novenas to the Virgin Queen,
And Father Barrett's kind remarks
Gave to the year religious sheen.

The Mighty Lions fall at last!
The first in five successful years
They turned from victory's bright path!
But not for lack of loyal cheers.
Coach Edward Crowe for work intense
Invoked the compliments of all.

A drive for books that was immense
On ev'ry student made its call.
Response was quick—our shelves were filled,
And others were we forced to build.

Senior

At last the golden goal we grasped!
Our group of forty-eight assumed
The airs peculiar to that class.
Our quarters were the first floor room.

Came Physics' laws, and journeys wide
Of brave Aeneas; subjects which
Much interest did e'er provide
Our heartfelt thanks we gladly give
For help from Brother Charles Kolf
And Brother Joseph Stamler too.

The Class elections then provoked
A great confusion. Voting thru,
We found the Presidential race
By Benjamin O'Dell was won,
While Urban Meier gained the place
Of next importance while our funds'
Strict care was Edward Clancy's task;
And John A. Fisher was our choice
As Secretary to the Class.

We found no reason to rejoice
In the accounts of our grid fights
But still their crowds did not decrease.

The Annual appeared despite
"Hard times"—a handsome book replete
With features smartly drawn and new;
Our thanks for Brother Leo's aid.
—And Graduation comes, so soon!
Announcement cards—The stage is laid
—Our parents, friends, pour thru the doors
Diplomas—High School days are o'er.

Epilogue

And now it is with slow, reluctant feet
We turn our course from the beloved place—
Redeemer; from the joys and warm retreat
Of student life. With vigor then we face
A world of strife through which we all must pass.
Perhaps our hesitance to leave these halls
Is caused by memories of days in class;
Perhaps by thought of our good Brothers all,
Who hold such steadfast faith in their ideal—
"A Christian education"—God's desire.
But when to us our life's work is revealed,
We will proceed with confidence, inspired
Through thorough Catholic instruction true.
All our lives shall by undying fires
Of Faith be lighted, 'til life comes anew.

Senior Girls' Class History

PROLOGUE

Caliope, Mnemosyne's first-born,
Inspiring goddess of heroic verse,
O Heavenly Muse, that through the ages sang
Of evil spirits and triumphant men,
Instruct me; and e'er guide my faltering hand,
That this I write may be a duplicate,
Or nearly so, of what in Heaven's light
In golden letters, in a volume huge,
Our God's Recording Angel doth inscribe
Of us, the class of 1931;
A page, our page, within the book of Life!

BOOK I

When first the gates of dear Redeemer High
Swung wide to welcome and embrace our class,
The girls, in fear and awe of the unknown,
Could scarcely summon pluck to step across
That wondrous threshold, and to enter halls
Yet strange and unexplored. Then through the haze
Of Latin, Algebra, and History,
Of Chemistry and Physics, and the like,
There shone a crown beset with glistening jewels,
Which from the royal gold in which they hid
Looked forth and twinkled, taking many shapes,
And beckoning to us, "Come forth, and win
The triple crown of Knowledge, Faith and Love.
The prize Redeemer offers to her girls."
With ardent minds and hearts we plan our course,
But one who, having tasted of the sweet
And bitter fortunes of the world, accounts
Them vain and selfish, and whose modest eyes
Are opened to a higher, nobler life,
Forsakes her eager schoolmates smilingly,
To join the Sisters of the I. H. M.
But to the others Alma Mater calls.
We entered; and the spirit of the school,
That spirit of determination, filled
Our hearts and minds, and drove us ever on
Through tests that sorely tried the Freshmen's grit,
Through all the battles of the Ancient World,
And 'gainst the buffets of the Sophomores
Who scorned our humble lot, aye, carried us
Secure and safe unto the very door
Of those who ridiculed and taunted us!

BOOK II

Timidity no longer stayed our hand;
We boldly took possession of the room,
And driving forth its haughty occupants,
We seized with curious and eager mind
The records of the ancient Gallic Wars,
The hist'ry of the medieval world,
And then a queer book which our teachers called
Biology. We grasped them, and at once
Began with earnest effort to pursue
The Roman Caesar, and to conquer him,
Together with the trials of Algebra.
Then, finding that the task was not so hard,
We turned our minds to other projects, too;
And after school was out, each afternoon
We rushed to the gymnasium to join
In battle of a more amusing sort.
We jumped and ran and shot and blocked, and soon
Produced, to the astonishment of all,
A spirited and skillful team of girls,
Redeemer cagers, lionesses, who
Though, but beginners on the court, went forth

To other schools with teams experienced
In all the stratagem of basketball;
Went forth, returned, and proudly did we chant
The cheerful cry of triumph! Well begun—!
But back to study! Harken to the call
For declamations. Now those boastful tongues
Are justified. The class of '31,
Are victors here as well as on the court,
And prove to be declaimers of some worth
By capturing the honors of the stage.
But not for long could we abandon play,
And when the strain of study seemed to tire
Our minds, and sap the vigor from our limbs,
We turned again to sport and its delights.
Successful on the varsity, our class
Was, too, the first in intramural games.
Only the Juniors stood to block our goal;
A day was set for battle. At the hour
Agreed upon we met in deadly strife,
A conflict that will live eternally
Within the hearts of its participants.
We fought with effort desperate, and slew
Our enemies who, as they breathed their last,
Did cheer their conquerors; then slowly dragged
Their lifeless spirits from the floor, while we
Were hailed with cheerful songs and lusty shouts,
The champions of Redeemer! . . . 'Tis half done!
With growing confidence and thanks to Him
Who shaped our destinies toward such an end,
Who mingled sweet with bitter, play with work,
We terminate our year as Sophomores
Within Redeemer High School's friendly halls.

BOOK III.

With strength restored by summer's pleasant rest
The struggle is renewed. Behold! We've dropped
Sophistication's garb, and now we wear
A merry cloak of jollity which naught
Can dull, not Cicero with lines and lines
Of puzzling Latin oratory, no!
Nor Euclid with his axioms and such,
Nor even Chemistry, the greatest threat
To those in their eleventh year of school.
But as we meet to call the roll, we note
That but three-fourths our number have returned
To join the ranks as Juniors. Well, heigh-ho!
Each to her own vocation! 'Tis our lot
To follow, with God's help, the happy road
That leads to graduation—and the prize!
We gird ourselves with all the benefits,
The spiritual graces of the S. S. C.,
And sally forth to cope with Cataline
And his conspirators. Persistently
Do we apply ourselves, till fundamentals
Are soundly drilled into our willing heads.
Then as the days grow shorter, and the dusk
Falls sooner o'er broad heaven's mantle, we
Respond to our athletic tendencies.
And with the aid of Mrs. Rentz, our coach,
We gain admittance to a League, for girls,
Of Catholic High Schools. Soon we win renown
As powerful opponents. We defeat
The many teams we meet, and only two
Show their superiority, and block
The way to district championship! Our work
Has merited for us a free-day and
The Football Banquet, which for the first time
Within the history of Redeemer High,
Is given for both boy and girl athletes!
Our minds developed with our bodies; hence

Senior Girls' Class History

When essay contests were announced, our class,
In all affairs the leaders, took the pen
And under heavenly inspiration wrote,
And by the written word increased the fame
Of our Redeemer High School; and we gained
Rewards that richly paid us for the task.
But, having thoughts, we wished to send them forth
Bedecked and clothed in clear and fitting words!
'Tis true that self-expression must be learned
By persevering practice of the art
Of Public Speaking; hence, we wisely chose
The girls we thought the most experienced
In this regard, to represent our class
As orators, to vie with Senior girls
Upon the stage. The Junior, who, last year,
Was judged the best declaimer, once again
Gave evidence of genius, and secured
The second highest rating of the test!
Initiated in the mysteries
Of science, we would see the marvels taught
In books. Hence, we forsake the schoolroom's light
To find a proof for all we've learned. We go
To Stearns', and there explore the wonders of
Their scientific manufacturing;
Then to the Waterworks, to witness there
Just how our city water's purified.
Convinced that books did not exaggerate
Descriptions of amazing facts like these,
We are content to study from our texts.
But hush! We hear strange sighs and sobs. We seek
To find the authors of these groans. They seem
To issue from the Seniors' sanctum. Ah!
Those tears bear but one explanation. 'Tis
The end of Senior struggles. We alone
Can comfort those to whom we bid farewell.
With feasting, dance, and laughter, our gay class
Sends forth the sober Seniors to the world;
And with our prayer, that God will ever bless
Their undertakings, they depart, while we Remain to fill the vacant seats within
The Senior classroom. Help us now, O God,
Who brought us here without a single stain
Upon our record as a model class!
O guide us through the difficulties of
Seniority. And grant, that when this year
Has passed into oblivion, our class
Will have discovered then—the golden crown!

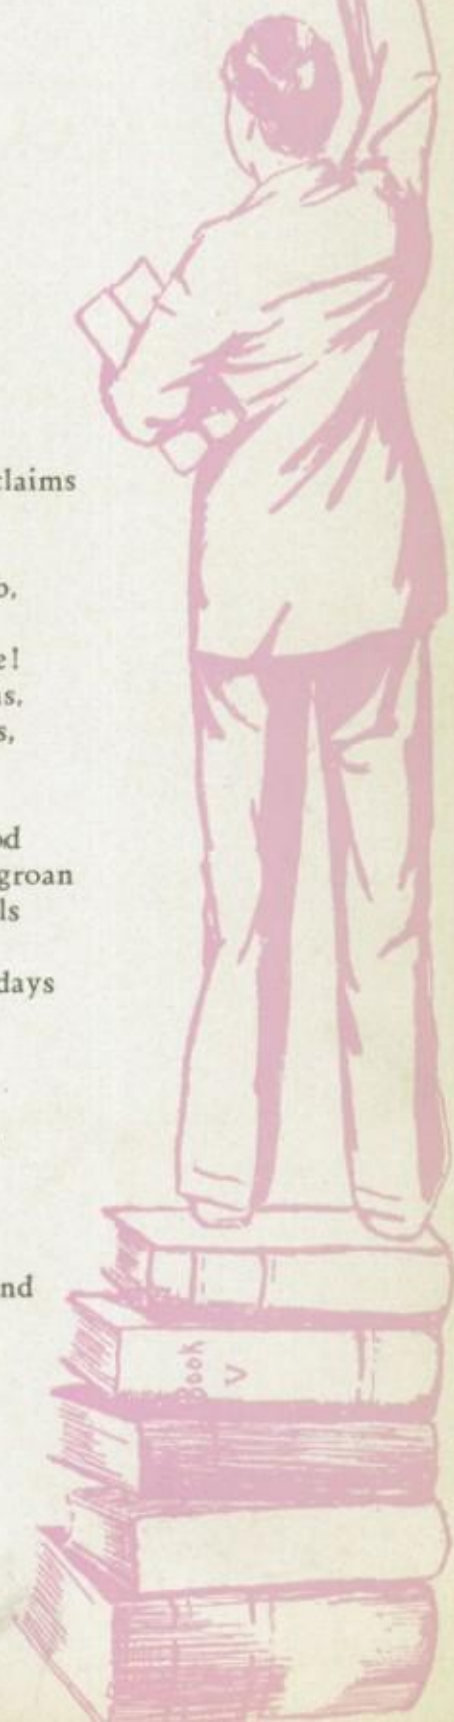

BOOK IV.

Just out of reach the bright tiara gleams
For but a moment; then a massive mount
Looms up before the shining gold and dims
Its beauteous lustre. We approach and read
A bold inscription carved upon the rock,
"If you would win the triple crown for which You've toiled and fought and conquered three long years,
You first must climb this rugged obstacle.
You will encounter on your journey's course,
Aeneas with his thrilling tale of Troy,
And Physic's fields of scorching, burning Heat,
And dazzling Light, and Electricity.
By this be warned of trials. 'Tis for you
To find the pleasures that are hidden on
The mountain's thorny ridge, and there are many."
Despite the warning we are resolute.
We choose our guides; Miss DuBreuil becomes
Class president, and Helen Thierry, next
In rank, is made vice-president; one girl
To care for our financial worries and

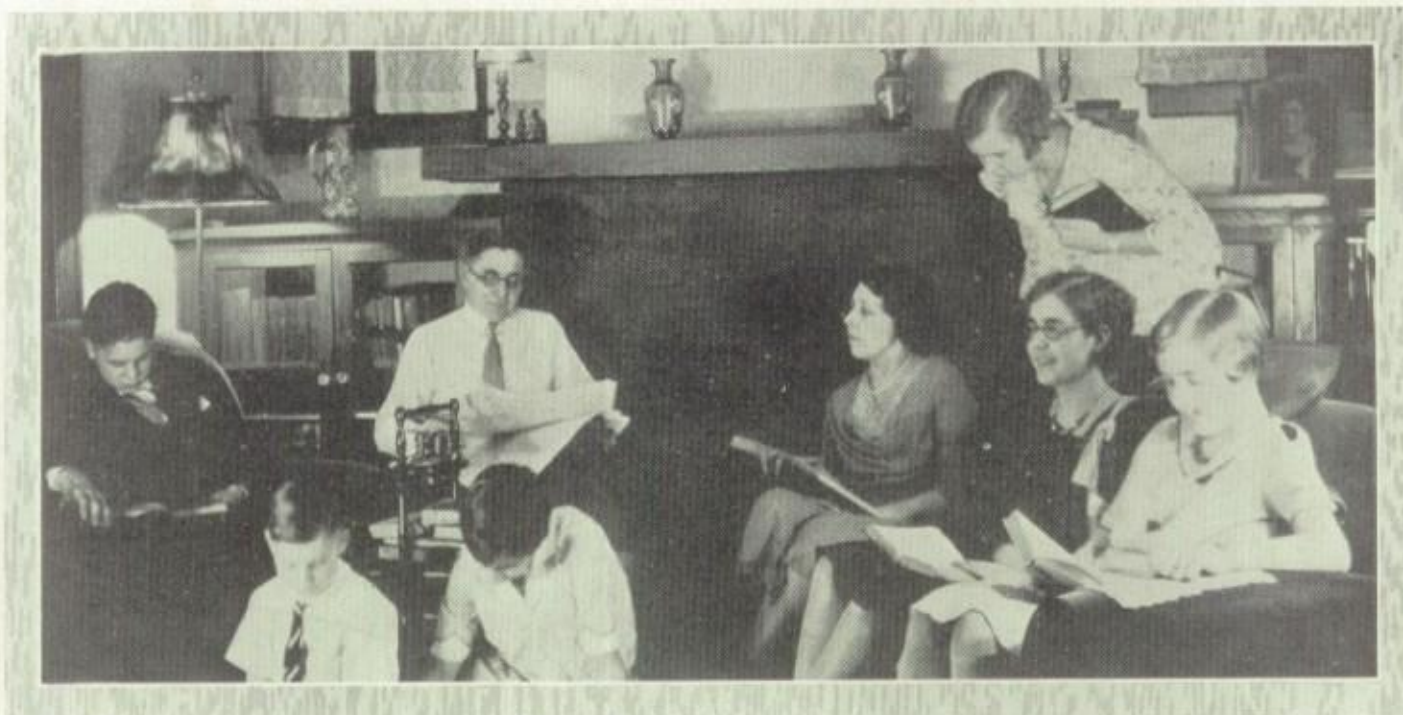

Another to assume the duties of
Class secretary are elected. Thus
Directed, we begin to climb the mount.
When one retreats to California's groves;
But staid Donelda joins to take her place.
We bravely hold our eyes fast riveted
Upon the far objectives, lest we trip
And fall behind the others. There arise
The many questions of Seniority.
We look at uniforms and rings and pins,
And all are pleased with our selection. Then
The Seniors haste to join the pageantry,
And help to celebrate with solemn joy
Our dear Redeemer's Golden Jubilee!
Then books demand attention of the girls.
The way grows weary, when the Juniors call,
And bring us to a party—brief respite
From study's irksome course. But back to school!
Debates and oratory once again
Claim our attention. We successfully
Direct and stage a one-act schoolroom sketch.
And at a mid-year party we present
The play to Juniors with a humorous
Mock trial. Our pursuits are variable;
We are engrossed in spiritual affairs.
Our delegates to Marygrove we send
To represent Redeemer's S. S. C.
And when a spiritual union is proposed,
Redeemer, with whole-heartedness, consents
And enters as an active unit. Too,
The Students' Mission Crusade challenges.
With quick reply we help in saving souls,
And join the Propagation of the Faith.
Then back to play, to basketball to prove
Our prowess on the court. Invincible
We stand until misfortune breaks our luck,
And we succumb with grace to foul defeat;
But with the resolution to avenge
Our slighted reputation. In the gap
'Twixt one game and another, schoolwork claims
Attention undivided, earnest thought,
And study diligent. We pass exams
With honors. Tempus fugit! As we climb,
The jewels twinkle in the diadem!
Our trembling palms extend to grasp the prize!
Then witness, O ye rocks and mountain streams,
Ye flowers wild, ye gay and rippling brooks,
Ye fens and crags, attest; and then proclaim
The sorrow which the sinews of our hearts
Could not restrain, which burst, and in a flood
Of copious tears flowed forth with sob and groan
To purge these souls so soon to leave the halls
That sheltered them for years, to bid adieu
To schoolmates—books—the happy, happy days
Of girlhood—to our school, Redeemer High!
One last display of all our talent; one
Review of all our victories is made
On class day; then we seek God's benediction,
And as the martial strains of Graduation
Announce the triumph and departure of
The class of '31, we rise in turn
Each to be crowned with Knowledge, Faith, and Love.

Then go we forth into a world of sin,
E'er guarded by our motto, which we hold
Forever to be followed. With the Hope
Of one day meeting face to face in heav'n,
Before the Lord of all our destinies,
We part, the challenge ringing in our souls,
"Ad summa semper!"

Organizations

Carefully handle this volume;
Tenderly turn ev'ry page,
For in its leaves breathe the echoes
Of Art, the fair rival of age.

Oratory or music,
Drama or minstrelsy,
Time cannot bring them its havoc;
They live eternally.

Deep in the mind of the dreamer,
Ruling each sensitive brain,
Haunting the halls of Redeemer,
The spirit returns once again.

Minstrel, musician, debater,
Actor, all take a part
Here, with our organizations
Voicing our glory in Art.

Book Club

Purpose: "To create and perpetuate an interest in good reading."

GATHERED in a cozy corner one day late in November, a group of Seniors was engaged in a very earnest discussion concerning the relative merits of two famous authors that have attained immortality in the world of literature. The interest and enthusiasm each one displayed in the conversation was evidence that these boys were well acquainted with books and authors.

During the discussion, someone conceived the idea of forming a club—a club to be devoted to things literary. Favorable response was immediate. Plans were soon in the making, and the first meeting was scheduled for a time in the near future.

At the initial assembly election of officers was held. Frank George, to whom we must extend the credit for the conception of this novel club, was made president. The secretarial duties were assumed by John Fisher, and the office of Treasurer was filled by Joseph Glaser. The next step in the development of our organization was the selection of a name. After some debate over various suggestions, we decided to call our group, "The Book Club."

The meetings were held every other Thursday in the library of the Boys' High School. At each meeting, opinions on literary topics were exchanged, and many controversies of literature were debated. Another interesting feature of "The Book Club" was a circulating library to which all members contributed and from which all drew books.

Debating Club

Purpose: To develop rapid and logical thinking, forceful and confident expression.

TO THINK rapidly, clearly, logically, and to express our thoughts in well chosen words delivered with confidence and poise of manner is, to our minds, an attainment greatly to be desired. Since the debating club of 1930 won the admiration of their audience by these traits, we decided that the surest way to attain our objective was to debate. Accordingly, eighteen members of the Class of '31 became members of our debating club, and from the beginning, debates and orations formed an important feature of our course in Public Speaking.

With deep regret we learned that the U. of D. had decided not to sponsor a Debating League for 1930-31. To carry on the activities of the Club, in spite of the dissolution of the league, required ambition and unselfishness on the part of the students. None the less enthusiastic, however, we determined to develop our forensic ability without the spur of inter-scholastic contests.

With true Redeemer spirit, several preliminary contests were held, as a result of which six girls were chosen for the debating teams. The subject "Resolved that the chain stores operating in the State of Michigan are detrimental to the people of the state" was expounded forcibly and logically, in arguments marked by clearness and conciseness.

To our successors we entrust the management of this Club, hoping that they will be as unselfish and ambitious for its success as we have endeavored to be.

Virgil Club

Purpose: To stimulate a clear understanding of the Latin language and a sincere interest and love for it.

FOR over nineteen centuries the charm of the Aeneid has exercised its spell over the minds and hearts of successive generations, so it is not surprising that thirteen of the Class of '31 should become victims of its magic. The language in which this master epic is written was the tongue of the conquerors of the world and was bequeathed by them, as a precious legacy, to the nations of the universe. To study, to understand, and to love the speech of the Romans is but natural for Catholic students—members of the Church that has dedicated the Latin tongue to the service of God.

Two outstanding achievements marked the activities of the Virgil Club of 1930-31. The two-thousandth anniversary of the birth of Virgil was commemorated by an unique Latin program, most enlightening in its detailed account of the life, character, and works of the great Latin poet.

The second accomplishment of the year was the delightful and beneficial deviation from the ordinary routine work of the Club to socialized recitations—a method that placed questions and discussions in the hands of the students who, nevertheless, remained under the supervision of the instructor. From the beginning this form of recitation proved agreeable and attractive, and to its beneficial results we attribute the interest of the members of the Club in the work of the year.

In all of our activities we have endeavored to perpetuate the motto of our Club and, as a spur to their efforts, we leave to the future Seniors the challenge—"Semper Melior."

Camera Club

Purpose: To promote an interest in photography and provide a pictorial account of school events for the students and Yearbook.

THAT "Old Reliable" pioneer of all our High School organizations, namely, the Camera Club, has once more shown us a true school spirit. The Club which has been under the supervision of Brother Charles Kolf, S. M. since it was founded in 1927 has faithfully fulfilled its two-fold purpose which is first, to give its members an insight in amateur photography, and secondly, to procure for the "Annual" a fascinating feature section. As a matter of fact, it has gone further than that, it has given the student body a complete pictorial history of the past school year.

Enthusiasm for this enticing club ran so high that it was necessary to call for volunteers only once to fill in vacancies, in spite of the fact much time would have to be spent at the different sport events or other school activities and in developing pictures in the "dark room." And though pupils representing each grade, were present at the first meeting, only those from the Senior and Junior Classes were accepted.

These members were shown many interesting things and received an abundance of valuable information. Much experience was gained while they were pacing up and down the sidelines at the games looking for a "good shot." And even when it was so cold that the shutters would barely move they never lost sight of their objective. This, we may add, was one reason for the splendid progress which they made.

Students' Spiritual Council

Purpose: To develop personal sanctity and qualities of Catholic leadership that will be displayed in vigorous Catholic Action.

ABOVE our scholastic, social, and athletic achievements we proudly and justly call attention to our spiritual activities.

The Class of '31 enthusiastically entered into the work of the Students' Spiritual Council. At the first meeting, Mary Ouellette was unanimously chosen general chairlady of the organization, and under her leadership, the members of the committees have been active in their efforts to increase in the students a more fervent devotion to the Holy Eucharist and a greater love for Our Blessed Mother. The meetings of the S. S. C. held before the feast days of our Lady have proved to be among the most interesting factors of the school program.

The work of the Council was especially furthered by the initiation, by our zealous priests, of the Tuesday morning novena services to our Lady of Perpetual Help. Every means was employed by the various committees to attain 100 per cent attendance at Mass on the Tuesdays of the novenas. Then, too, the added privilege of an extra week-day Communion was also encouraged.

The Holy Redeemer representatives took an active part in the S. S. C. meeting held at Marygrove College. The proposal to establish a Students' Spiritual Union, by means of the S. S. C., received the loyal support of the Holy Redeemer branch, and, on the establishment of the Union, Holy Redeemer became a charter member. The report of the activities of our Apostolic committee at one of the meetings of the Union proved a source of edification to all. We await with interest the work of the future Seniors of Holy Redeemer in the activities of this, the most worth while organization of our school.

Apostolic Committee

Purpose: Active participation in the Lay Apostolate by teaching Religion to Catholic children in the public schools.

OUR HOLY FATHER, Pope Pius X, in his encyclical on "The Teaching of Catechism" attributed the present widespread decay in religion and morals to the ignorance of the people in divine things, and this zealous Pontiff pleaded for a more thorough and systematic teaching and studying of Christian doctrine.

With our Catholic boys and girls attending the public schools in such numbers, it is obvious that special Religion classes must be organized to prevent numerous souls straying from the True Fold. Priests and Sisters are doing all they can to care for these neglected ones, but the task is too great for their willing, but already over-burdened, generosity. If the Church is to make progress, both at home and in foreign mission lands, the Catholic Lay Apostolate, pleaded for so ardently by our present Pontiff, Pope Pius XI, must become more active.

Last September the plea came to the Senior girls to participate in this apostolic work. Eleven members of the Class of '31 immediately and unselfishly answered the call. All year they have labored among the Negroes, the Maltese, and the Italians—teaching Religion at St. Benedict de Moor, St. Peter's, Mount Carmel in River Rouge, and at the St. Elizabeth Community House. This year the girls prepared five classes for First Holy Communion and three for Confirmation.

We are proud to be able to say that the Seniors of '31 furnished more Apostolic laborers than any preceding class; and we truly hope that after graduation they, and many others, will still realize the importance of this form of "Catholic Action" and continue the work so zealously begun.

Chi Rho Mission Club

Purpose: To foster "Catholic Action" by assisting the missionaries at home and in foreign lands.

PRAY, sacrifice, and labor that the souls of those ignorant of the truths of salvation may be saved for the glory of God's Kingdom. Such has been the creed of the girls of Holy Redeemer who have striven so earnestly, under the banner of the Chi Rho Mission Club, to help support our home and foreign missions.

Under the leadership of the Mission chairman, Lydia Michalski, this enthusiastic group painted bright posters to herald the approach of a stamp drive; the response exceeded even the expectations of its authors. During Lent they sponsored a "penny a day" campaign for the ransom of heathen children. Spirited speeches at S. S. C. meetings aroused the girls to action. The club-members distributed catholic magazines, collected and sold tin foil, and prepared boxes of holy pictures, medals, and other religious articles which were sent to the missions. In February, Rev. Father Parker visited Holy Redeemer, and at a splendid Mission program held in the auditorium, stated in simple but forceful terms the situation of the missions. In answer to his plea our school, as a unit, joined the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. A Student Mission Crusade rally brought twenty Redeemerites to the Sacred Heart Seminary. They returned fired with even a greater desire to be "cross bearers" in the field of missionary activities.

That the Chi Rho Mission Circle of Holy Redeemer may ever increase in its devotion to the work of the missions; that its work of saving souls may be entered upon each year with enthusiasm; and that prayer, alms, and willing effort may always contribute to its success is the wish and prayer of its members of 1931.

Alumni and Alumnae

IT is with great pleasure mingled not a little with sincere gratitude and appreciation that we introduce this section of our book to the students and friends of Holy Redeemer.

At a time when the possibilities of a 1931 Campanile hung precariously in the balance of financial doubt, thoughtful and interested members of former graduating classes advanced with words of encouragement and helping hands providing the necessary stimuli to a confidence that had every reason to lose itself in the throes of difficult and disheartening circumstances.

Shortly after the election of officers the newly appointed president of the Alumni was approached by James Kohl on the question of incorporating an Alumni-Alumnae section in the High School Yearbook. Seeing the possibilities in such a project Lawrence Cook immediately inquired as to the responsibilities such a step would incur and finding the plan feasible asked Jimmy Kohl to make the necessary arrangements and attend the details.

With his characteristic efficiency the latter gathered about him such of those as he knew would be interested and capable. Consequently the assistance and advice of two former editors of the Campanile Harry Gensler '29 and Romaine Livernois '30, were elicited and the plan of this section is indicative of the wisdom of his selections.

Naturally, therefore, we who have been charged with the responsibility of the Yearbook are pleased to express our grateful appreciation in the success of this innovation. To Jimmy Kohl we owe a special debt of thanks for taking the initiative and devoting much of his time and energy to the execution of details that were not at all times pleasant.

Alumni Officers

THE Alumni Association was founded in 1918 to prolong that sanguine friendship of the class room. The association has grown rapidly and now consists of nearly four hundred members. Many of these men have gained success in the business and professional fields while others are recognized scholars and athletes in various colleges and universities throughout the country. These men through the attainment of their endeavors have brought greater glory to their Alma Mater.

At a banquet held early in the fall of 1930, the officers for the present year were installed. Lawrence W. Cook '24 was made President; John A. Griffith '24, Vice-President; John F. Reaume '27, Secretary and Harold T. Collins '23, Treasurer. The Board of Governors consists of Theodore J. Collins '20, three year term; Edward D. O'Connor '28, two year term and Joseph A. Sullivan '30, one year term.

The Alumni were very successful in their social and athletic ventures during the year. City-wide recognition was given to the basketball team because of their many victorious games. The members and friends were entertained by boxing matches and talks at several smokers sponsored by the association. On April 17, 1931, the annual Alumni Ball was given at the Book Cadillac Hotel. James M. Kohl '29 acted as chairman of this affair. The members look forward to the banquet to be held in June when the Seniors of the school will be welcomed into the association.

Alumnae Officers

THROUGH the efforts of our efficient officers, the social and business programme of the Alumnae was scheduled and executed during the past year of 1930.

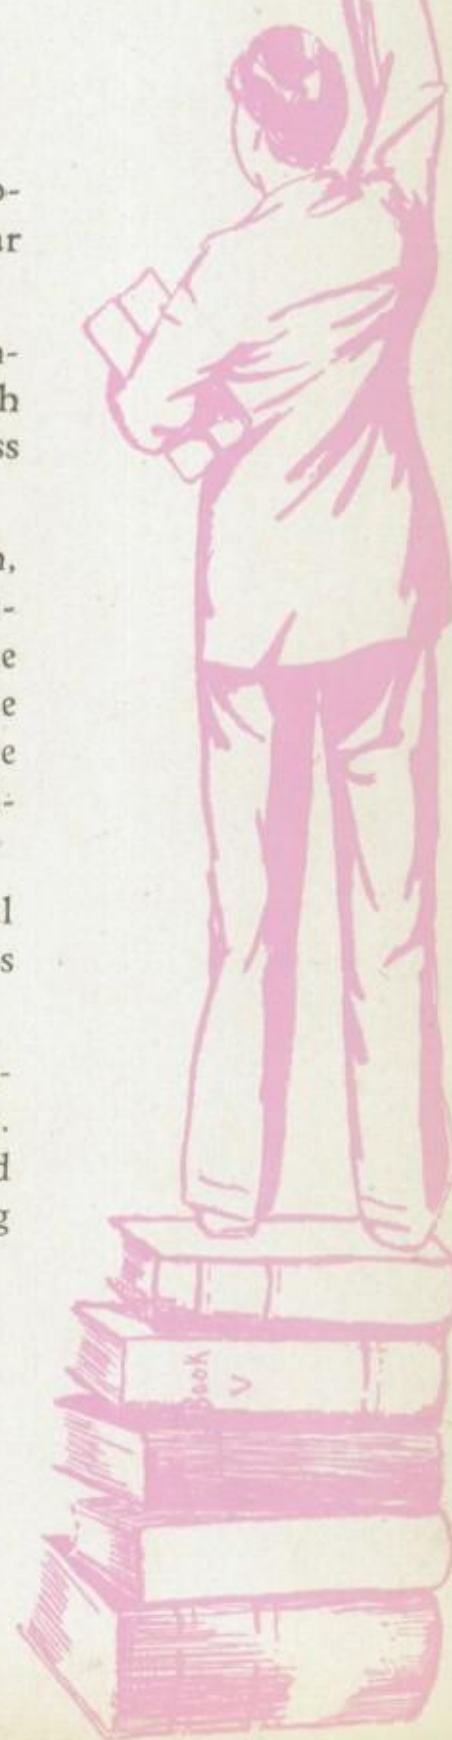

On June ninth, 1930, a meeting was held in the auditorium with Josephine Collins presiding. Plans for the annual banquet were discussed after which a reading was given by Miss Marie Hanneman and orchestral selections by Miss Mary Noud and her associate musicians.

When these plans were materialized on the evening of June nineteenth, at the Cadillac Athletic Club, many of the older graduates were there to welcome the Class of '30 into their ranks. An unusual festive air pervaded the banquet hall on this occasion. The tables were beautifully appointed and the burning tapers tied in blue and white and gold bore, without words, the Jubilee message. Miss Mary Forbes, our charming toastmistress, introduced the participants of a programme which proved to be delightfully entertaining.

The winter passed uneventfully until February fifth, when the annual bridge party was given in the auditorium. As is customary the late graduates sponsored this affair and acted as official hostesses.

With the co-operation of the Alumni, the Annual Ball was sponsored, despite the grave difficulties provided by the pessimistic cloud of hard times. Josephine Collins, Susan Schneider, and Mary Snyder were actively engaged as members on the various committees, and were greatly instrumental in making this the outstanding social success of the year.

Alumni Dance Committee

THE eleventh annual Alumni Ball which was sponsored by the Alumni and Alumnae, held April 17, 1931, in the elaborate Crystal Ballroom of the Book Cadillac Hotel, resulted in the greatest social event in the annals of the Alumni and Alumnae.

Approximately one hundred and twenty-five couples, members and friends of the Alumni and Alumnae, danced to the finest tunes in music, which were rendered by Mike Falk and his Collegians.

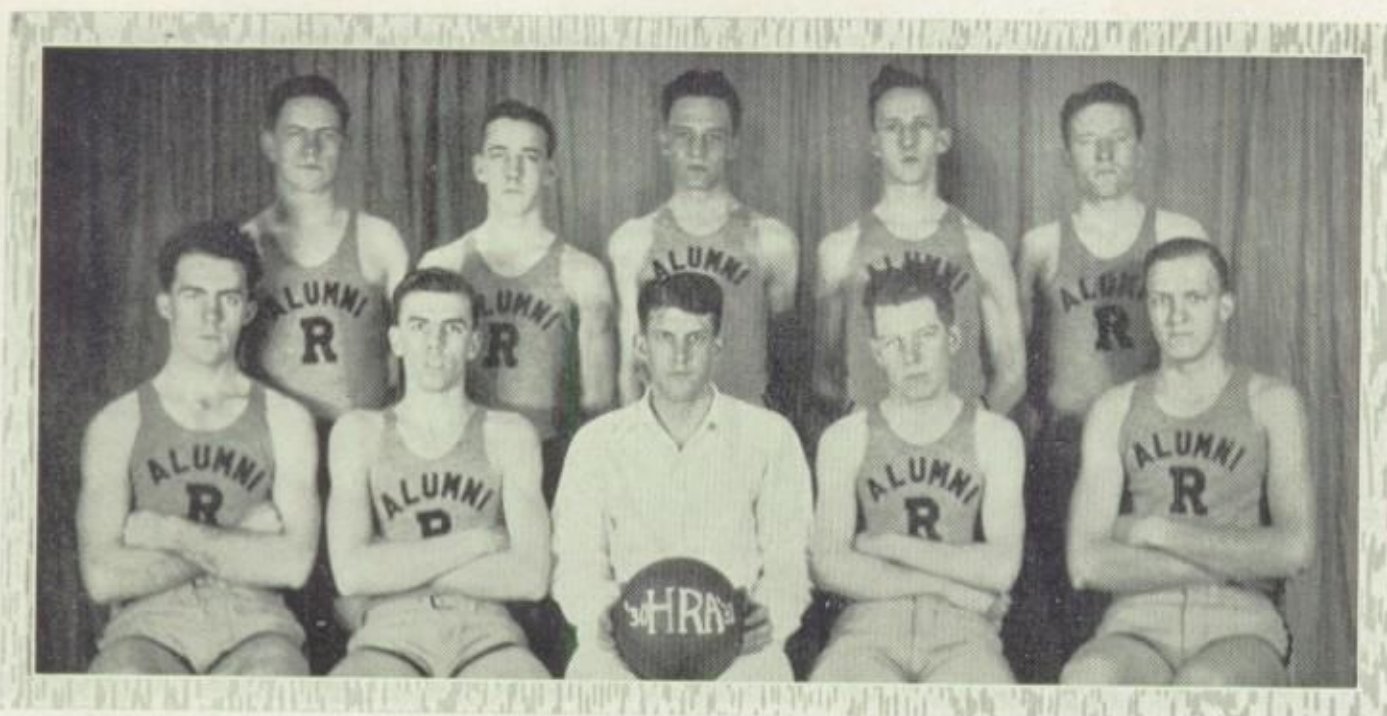

The spotlight with its many colors adorned the couples as they danced throughout the evening with its rays blending with the frocks of the ladies. The dance served its two-fold purpose in that it brought the organization's members together and brought out the characteristic of activity to the association.

The committee of which James Kohl was chairman, assisted by Susan Schneider, did all in their power to make this evening a joyous one. Therefore, it takes this opportunity to thank the patrons and all those who aided in making this event a success by their attendance.

The committees are made up of the following: Music—Mary Snyder, Joseph Sullivan, and Susan Schneider. Publicity—John Barry and Reynolds Meier. Tickets—Harold Collins and Harry Gensler. Ballroom—Theodore Collins, Josephine Collins, and James Kohl. Patrons—Jack Reaume and Lawrence Cook.

At this time we wish to make use of the opportunity provided us to express our sincere appreciation to the members of the committee for their interested display of co-operation. If the Ball was a success it was in spite of many and serious difficulties.

DURING the winter months of the past year a plan was conceived to rally some of the fellows and organize a basketball team to represent the alumni. Through the kind co-operation of Father Smith the gym was engaged twice a week, Wednesday evening for practice and Sundays for games to be played with various Alumni and Independent teams throughout the city.

Charlie Kohler volunteered to coach the team and act in the capacity of athletic manager. A call for candidates was made and a large number of luminaries from other years gathered together, forming quite a representative squad. Uniforms were purchased and the schedule being completed, the team went out to defeat the High School varsity in its initial attempt.

As the season progressed, some of the city's best were met in games which were hard played and well attended. The final records show that in spite of strong opposition the team broke even in the number of games won and lost, which after all, made the season a successful one when one remembers that this was the Alumni's first year in organized basketball circles.

A History of the Holy Redeemer Alumni Association

IN SEPTEMBER, 1917, when the Brothers of Mary of Dayton, Ohio, came to Holy Redeemer at the invitation of the Very Reverend Father Franzen, C.S.S.R., then Pastor, to organize and conduct a Boys' High School, the student enrollment was very small and it was not until June 1918, that the people of Holy Redeemer Parish were able to witness the first Commencement Exercises under their jurisdiction.

In that year, there was but one boy to graduate. However, the following year the number increased to seven and in June, 1920, nineteen more young men completed the prescribed course of study and were awarded diplomas.

It also happened, a little later in that same month and year, that a complimentary banquet was tendered this extra large class, by the seven young men that had gone before them and it was at this banquet that the idea was first made known, by the Very Reverend Father E. K. Cantwell, C.S.S.R., who was then Pastor, that an Association should be formed to keep these young men that had completed their High School career and those that would graduate in later years, united.

Pursuant to this idea, a meeting was held in the Auditorium in October, 1920, with Brother Edward, S. M., then principal, presiding. Here officers were elected, committees were appointed to draw up a Constitution and By-Laws and other plans that were necessary at that time were adopted.

Thus it was, that a new organization in Holy Redeemer Parish was founded; however, this Association was not singular in its nature, for a similar one was started some years before by the good Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, for the girls who graduated under their care.

As a High School Alumni our object is to perpetuate among our members those hallowed memories of school days, to help one another morally and financially, to strengthen the bonds of friendship and finally to unite ourselves to our Alma Mater.

With this object as our guide, we have grown from twenty-six members, to the present roll call of three-hundred and eighteen members. The Association now twelve years old has established a worthy precedent, and we feel that our organization will live on and expand as long as there is a Holy Redeemer Parish.

With the addition of each graduating class, our Alumni is growing bigger and better each year and this is in a great part due to the aid given and the enthusiasm displayed by the Fathers and Brothers of Holy Redeemer Parish. We appreciate their assistance and advice and aim to profit by the encouragement rendered us. With the influx of forty-eight new and active members at the end of this scholastic year we can hopefully look forward to a prosperous and helpful as well as interesting future.

A History of the Holy Redeemer Alumnae Association

ON the evening of November twelfth, 1915, Father Franzen called a meeting of the Holy Redeemer graduates. The response was enthusiastic and the attendance gratifying, for nearly all who lived within the city were present. This marked the first reunion of the former students and it gave birth to those enduring sparks of loyalty and allegiance which have been kept alive even to the present day.

After a secret vote was cast by ballot the following were elected to hold office for one year: president, Miss Winifred Kerwin; vice-president, Miss Bernice Baker; secretary, Mr. John B. Collins; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Kent; historian, Miss Marietta Quinn. It was moved and supported by these officers that all graduates and post-graduates of Holy Redeemer be accepted to membership either honorary or active. A constitution consisting of six articles subdivided into sixteen sections was drawn up and it was further suggested that the Alumni hold three meetings a year, one in October, another in early Spring, and the third at the Alumni banquet. In closing the meeting, Father Franzen said:

"The object of the Holy Redeemer Alumni shall be to promote social intercourse among its members; to keep in close relation with its Alma Mater; to preserve and strengthen her teachings and to advance her interests!"

However, the year 1919 marked a change in the personnel of the Alumni when Father Cantwell distinguished the girl graduates from those of the Brothers' School by forming two associations and naming the girls' "The Holy Redeemer Alumnae Association." It was also during this year that we became more closely affiliated with the Inter-national Federation of Catholic Alumnae.

In December, 1921, a holiday dancing party was given by the Alumnae at the Elks' Temple. This was the first social event ever given by the Alumnae, and it was a tremendous success. When the Immaculate Heart Sisters celebrated the anniversary of their Diamond Jubilee, many Redeemer representatives were present at the pontifical high mass at St. Mary's Chapel in Monroe.

In March, 1929, the Alumnae was re-organized by Father Elenz and new officers were installed. Miss Josephine Collins was elected president; Miss Angeline Benson, vice-president; Miss Eunice Petiprin, secretary; Miss Susan Schneider, treasurer.

When a banquet was tendered to the Class of '29 at the Fort Shelby Hotel, two hundred members were present and the dance at the Book-Cadillac a year ago was considered a brilliant success. The card party at the auditorium, on February fifth, brings the activities of the Alumnae up to date.

And thus our review is completed for the present, but history repeats itself and well may it be so; for as each sweet girl graduate leaves Holy Redeemer to join the ranks of womanhood, she may have the assurance that there is a connecting link, binding her forever with her former classmates. That link is the Alumnae, and as a correlated whole, the Alumnae has become almost spiritually related to the succeeding classes, and, what is more, to the Immaculate Heart Sisters who form the background of school day memories.

Athletics

Then we read books of deed,
Books replete with thrills;
Sparks of fire! High desire
Grips our minds and wills.

Brave and bold, men of old,
Knight and Buccaneer,
Hearts of gold, we are told
Never knew of fear.

They who fly far and high
Through the heavens' blue,
Often die in the sky,
Aiming to be true.

Fight and win, ne'er give in,
Conquer or be slain!
This indeed be our creed,
"Redeemer High must reign!"

ATHLETICS

Rev. E. Smith, C. Ss. R.

Redeemer in Athletics

Edward V. Crowe

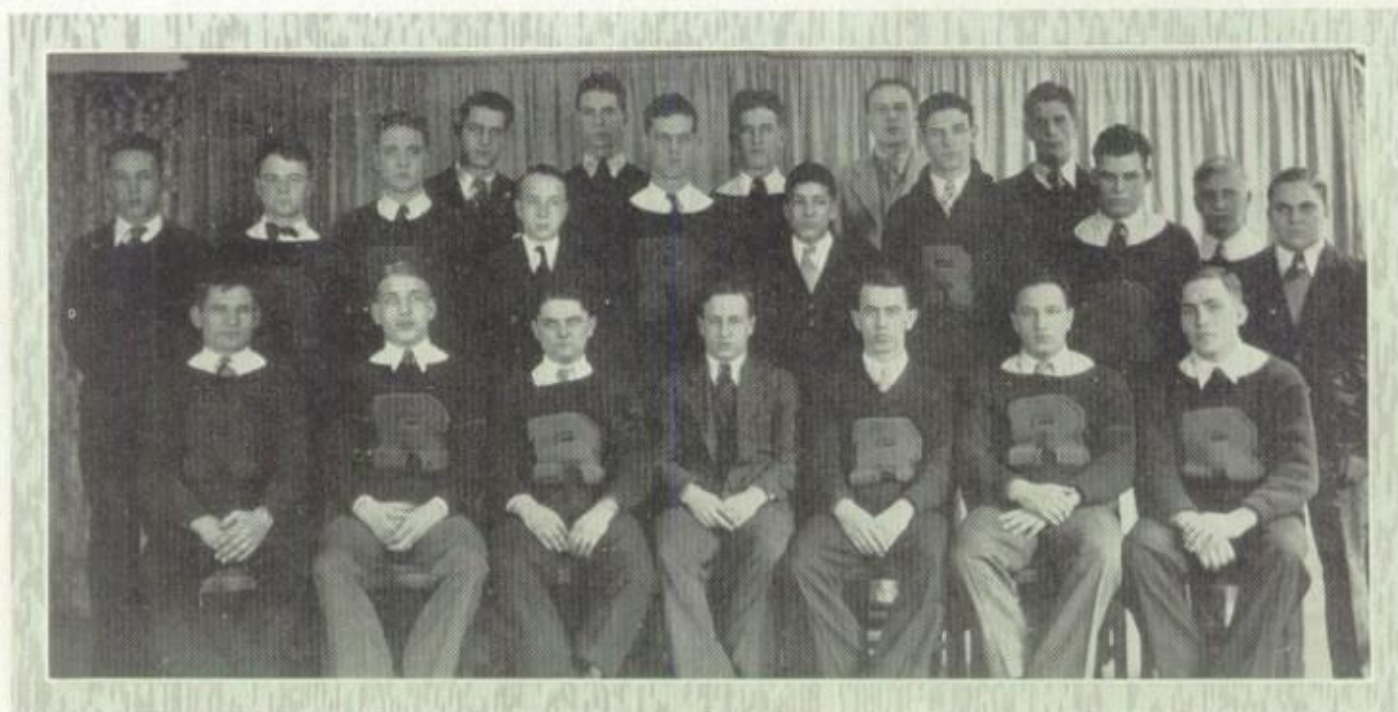

THE Boys' High School is singularly fortunate in its possession of the two men responsible for the Athletic ventures of Redeemer.

Father Smith coming to us this year from Grand Rapids has displayed such sincere and co-operative interest and such tireless initiative that we find it difficult to express sufficiently our appreciation. His sympathetic concern and conscientious activity have been an inspiration to the entire student body leaving nothing for us to desire in our ambition to place Redeemer in the most auspicious position in athletic circles.

Mr. Crowe, for the second consecutive year a member of the faculty and coach of the various athletic teams has likewise brought distinction to the school by his recent appointment to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, Board of Supervisors. In this new capacity, Mr. Crowe has been placed in charge of all parochial High Schools in Detroit and has a voice in the making of all regulations pertaining to athletics for the High Schools of Michigan.

With such capable and representative men in control of Redeemer's athletics, we have every reason to hope for a prosperous era of strong varsity teams and good sportsmanship.

Mrs. F. Rentz

Redeemer in Athletics

Rev. J. McAllister, C. Ss. R.

BECAUSE of the rapid development of athletics in the Girls' High School its importance added too great a responsibility when combined with the Boys' School so it was deemed necessary to separate the two, each having its own director.

As a consequence, Father McAllister, who had the previous year, so capably supervised both departments, was relieved of part of his burden and centered his attention on the development of intramural sports and varsity basketball among the girls. Early in the year, while the gym was free, volley ball was introduced and proved quite popular. Later, basketball was emphasized and much interest and enthusiasm aroused because of the organization of class games. All this was due in most part to the interest and efforts of Father McAllister.

Mrs. Rentz once more took over the arduous work of coaching the varsity basketball team and gave inspiration and practical advice to all intramural sports.

The girls are naturally therefore particularly pleased and appreciative for all that Father McAllister and Mrs. Rentz have done to provide for them an organized manner of participation in forms of exercise that were not only interesting but likewise very beneficial.

Several years ago, a very helpful organization was established in the school for the purpose of assisting, in many ways, those responsible for Redeemer in Athletics.

Because of the character of the work performed this group has been known as the Student Athletic Committee. Although but seldom recognized and oftentimes but slightly appreciated the members of this committee performed their several functions with great efficiency and at quite a sacrifice.

It became incumbent upon them to arouse and maintain interest and enthusiasm in all athletic encounters, to advertise the coming games by means of posters and placards distributed about the schools, to encourage attendance at the various contests, write accounts of these games, collecting tickets and taking care of the crowds, arrange for pep meetings and in a word constitute the stimulus necessary for the complete success of anything pertaining to the school's athletics.

Edward Duffy, the student manager was chairman of this committee and deserves the commendation and appreciation of the student body for his efforts done quietly and effectively without the glamor and publicity which attend those who actively participate in varsity games.

With a schedule of ten difficult games to be played on successive Saturdays the Lions had an assignment as strenuous as any aggregation in the city. When the season opened over forty candidates presented themselves to Mr. Crowe and competition for various positions was keen.

U. Meier
Captain

Twelve lettermen were on hand and upon them was placed the bulk of the responsibility for a successful season. Urban Meier, a three year man had previously been elected captain. With him were such talented artists as John Fisher, who played such creditable ball at tackle as to merit himself a place on the All-City team. La Crosse, although only a Sophomore, likewise earned a position on this mythical eleven because of his driving power as a halfback.

Although no championship was won we feel that the squad is nevertheless deserving of some credit. In League games the team won two, lost two, and tied one, but in so doing scored 44 points against 25. And in non-league games Redeemer won two, lost one, and tied two and outscored their opponents, 47-26. Nevertheless, Redeemer is accustomed to championships and it is with high hopes and complete confidence that the squad of 1930 entrusts the laurels and traditions of the Monarch to Mr. Crowe and the team of '31.

A Summary of the Season

Although the Lions did not win the league championship, they fought gallantly on to four victories, three losses, and three ties. Although disappointing at times, we must, nevertheless, give them credit for being a loyal, fighting, and courageous team.

Redeemer 21 — Saginaw 0

The season was opened in a very auspicious and satisfactory manner on September 27 at Codd Field when the Purple Lions scored a touchdown in each of the three opening quarters, through teamwork and especially through the efforts of Meier, McShane, and Roach. Mr. Crowe's reserves held the visitors scoreless in the final quarter.

Redeemer 13 — Southwestern 26

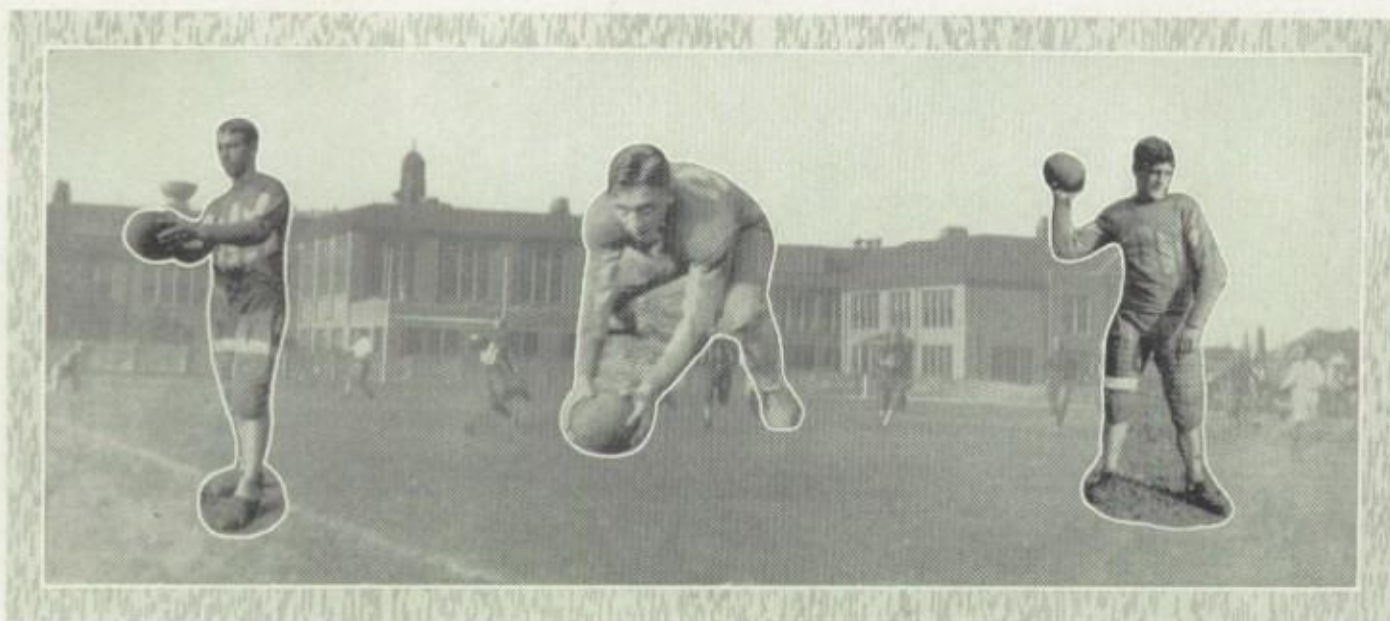

On October 4, the Redeemer gridders suffered their first defeat at the hands of Southwestern High at Southwestern Field. The Lions led at the half, 13-12, but due to a fine defence and flashy offences in the last half the Prospectors edged out a 26-13 victory. The outstanding warriors for the Purple and Gold were Glaser, Clancy, and Kulick.

Redeemer 0 — Catholic Central 0

In the morning game on the following Saturday, the Lions clashed with Catholic Central at Southwestern Field. Due to the capable defense of both teams, the final score was 0-0. The ability of Stuve, LaCrosse, Carter, and Starrs made itself prominent throughout the contest.

Redeemer 0 — Cass Tech 0

On the cold and snowy afternoon of October 18, the Purple and Gold won a moral victory over the Cass Tech eleven. Rated as the underdogs by three touchdowns, the Lions went into the game with the characteristic vim and vigor of the past Redeemer teams and held the heavier Cass team to a scoreless tie. Cash, Fisher, Clancy, and Meier starred for Redeemer.

Redeemer 19 — Michigan High School 0

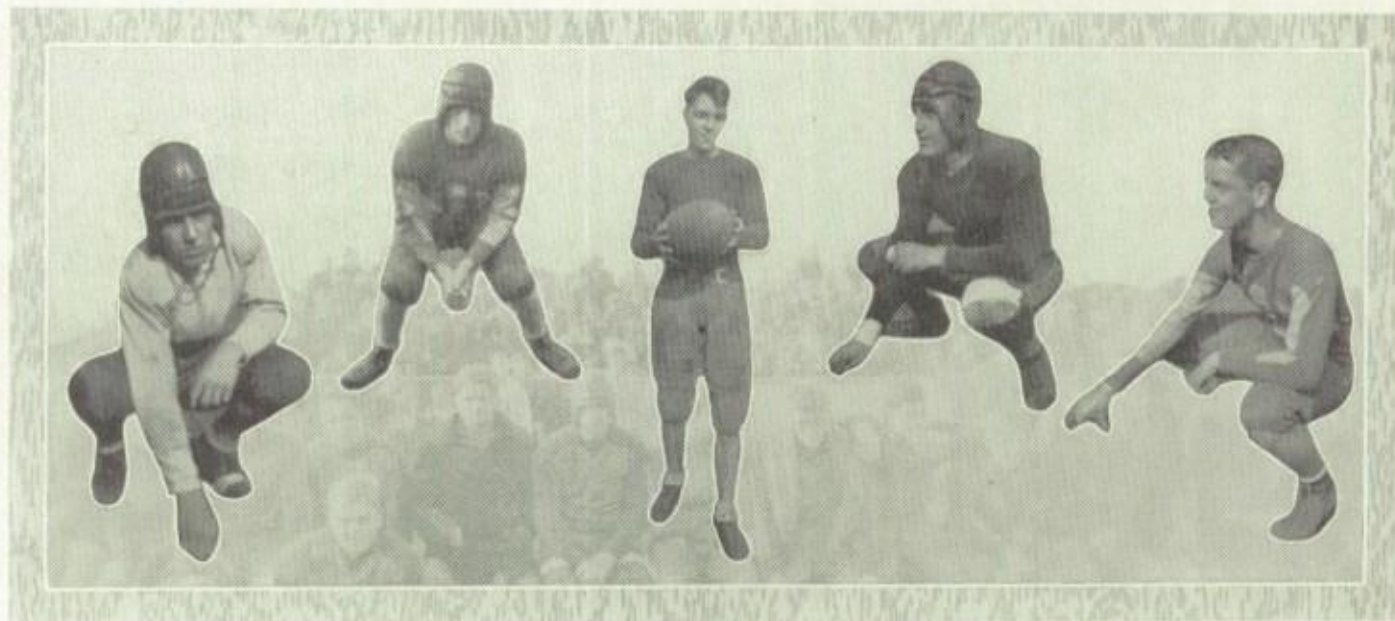

After leaving the gridiron the victims of scoreless ties in the last two contests, the Lions emerged victorious over Michigan High of Flint. Both teams relied upon straight football. As a result Redeemer drove the ball across the final stripe three times for a 19-0 victory. Stuve, Buresh, and Clancy gave a real "Redeemer" exhibition of football.

Redeemer 7 — De LaSalle 0

The following week the team seemed helpless against their league opponent, De LaSalle, at Southwestern. However, with but three minutes to play, a long pass from Clancy to Roach put Redeemer on LaSalle's 10 yard line. After two successful plays, Starrs crashed through his left tackle for a touchdown and Cash kicked the extra point. LaCrosse, Cash, and Starrs played a prominent part in the 7-0 victory of the Lions.

Redeemer 6 — St. Anthony 12

A week later the Purple and Gold travelled to Northwestern field to engage the St. Anthony eleven. As a result of St. Anthony's 12-6 victory, the Lions suffered their first league defeat in four years. Late in the last quarter the Redeemer eleven threatened to tie the score but it proved to be only a threat. Fisher, Meier, and Roach gave an excellent display of football in the tilt.

Redeemer 7 — St. Joseph 13

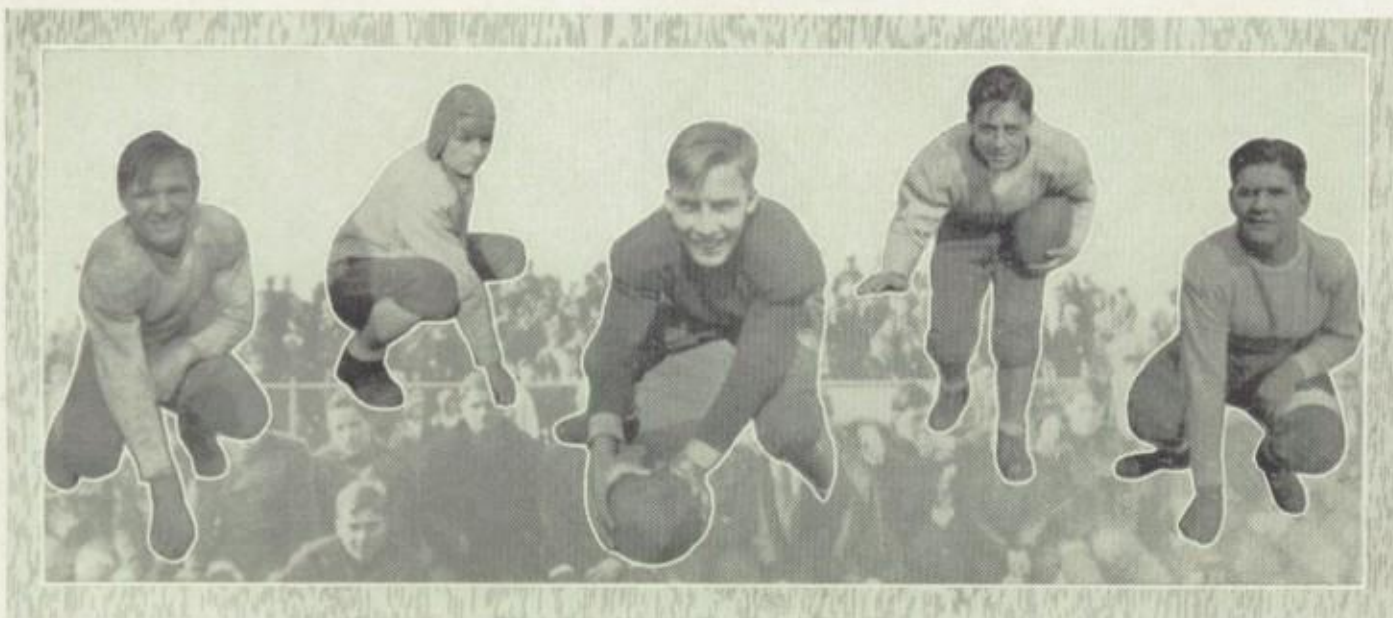

On Nov. 14, St. Joe's inflicted a second league defeat at Southeastern Field. St. Joe's brought with them a fine running attack with plenty of drive. Although the Redeemer team held a 7 to 6 edge at the half, St. Joe's came back strong and regained their lead. Hastings', Kulick's, and McShane's ability stood out in this traditional battle.

Redeemer 26 — St. Catherine 0

The Redeemer Lions travelled to Southeastern field on November 21 to engage the St. Catherine eleven in their last league tilt. Meier, Starrs, and LaCrosse crossed the final stripe to score for the Purple and Gold. As a result the Lions emerged victorious by a 26-0 score.

Redeemer 0 — St. Leo 0

On the clear, cold Thanksgiving morning of November 27, the Redeemer eleven met their traditional foe, St. Leo, on the snowblanketed Southwestern gridiron. Due to the weather conditions both teams relied upon a punting game. Although both contestants threatened to score, these threats were only threats because as the timekeeper's whistle screeched over the gridiron for its final time, the score was 0 to 0. In this tilt Starrs, Meier, Fisher, Clancy, Cash, Glaser, Hastings, Buresh, Roach, Howard, Miloch and Caouette donned Redeemer football uniforms for the last time.

School Song

Come and sing a tribute to our own Redeemer High.

Loyal sons who love to spread her fame;
Let your voices soar up to the ever endless sky

With the praises of her lustrous name.
Swell the chorus as we chant our motto loud and clear.

God and country ever is our cry,
And we also will remember our old Alma Mater dear—

Honor to Redeemer High.

CHORUS

Redeemer High, Redeemer High, we sing your praises loud,
Your noble name and lasting fame
In accents justly proud;
Your colors gay in full display,
Your purple and gold we fly,
With full applause
And lusty rahs,
Three cheers, Redeemer High.

Basketball

The basketball season opened with an apparent abundance of good and well experienced players, five of whom had won their monograms the previous year.

Edward Clancy was elected to lead the wearers of the Purple and Gold while Meier, Kantzler, Hayes and Roach, playing their last year for Redeemer started the season with a win over the strong Western outfit which later contended for the City Championship in the Public High School League.

The final records show that in the many close and hard fought games of a strenuous schedule, the Lions won seven and lost ten.

Basketball Season

Redeemer 22 — Western 18

On Dec. 5th the Redeemer Lions opened their 1931 basketball season by defeating Western High 22-18. The "Cowboys" showed a strong defense but were finally conquered by the Lions.

Western finished the season as runners-up in the City Championship play-off in the Public High School League.

Redeemer 7 — Alumni 8

Redeemer was defeated by the first organized Alumni basketball team, by the slight margin of one point. The clever ball handling of the guards Meier and Maher held the Alumni to a close score. Meier took the honors for the evening as high score man.

Redeemer 23 — St. Marys 21

On Dec. 16th Redeemer traveled to Orchard Lake to defeat St. Marys 23-21 in an overtime period.

The overtime period was fast and exciting. Moran accounted for the winning point by dropping the ball nonchalantly in the basket as the final gun ended the game.

This was the first defeat St. Marys had encountered in two years.

Redeemer 17 — Southwestern 27

Redeemer met their second defeat at the hands of the strong Southwestern team. The Lions fought hard but in vain to stop this fast moving quintet.

Kantzler played the greatest game of his career by his excellent ball handling. He was also high point man for the Lions.

John Maher played his first game this night and was found to be useful on the varsity team.

Redeemer 14 — Windsor Tech. 19

Redeemer unsuccessfully resisted the Canadian invasion and went down to defeat before the "Kingsmen" by the close score of 14-19. The Lions determined to hold the Tech. men in the second half, and did so successfully but the lead in the first half determined the game.

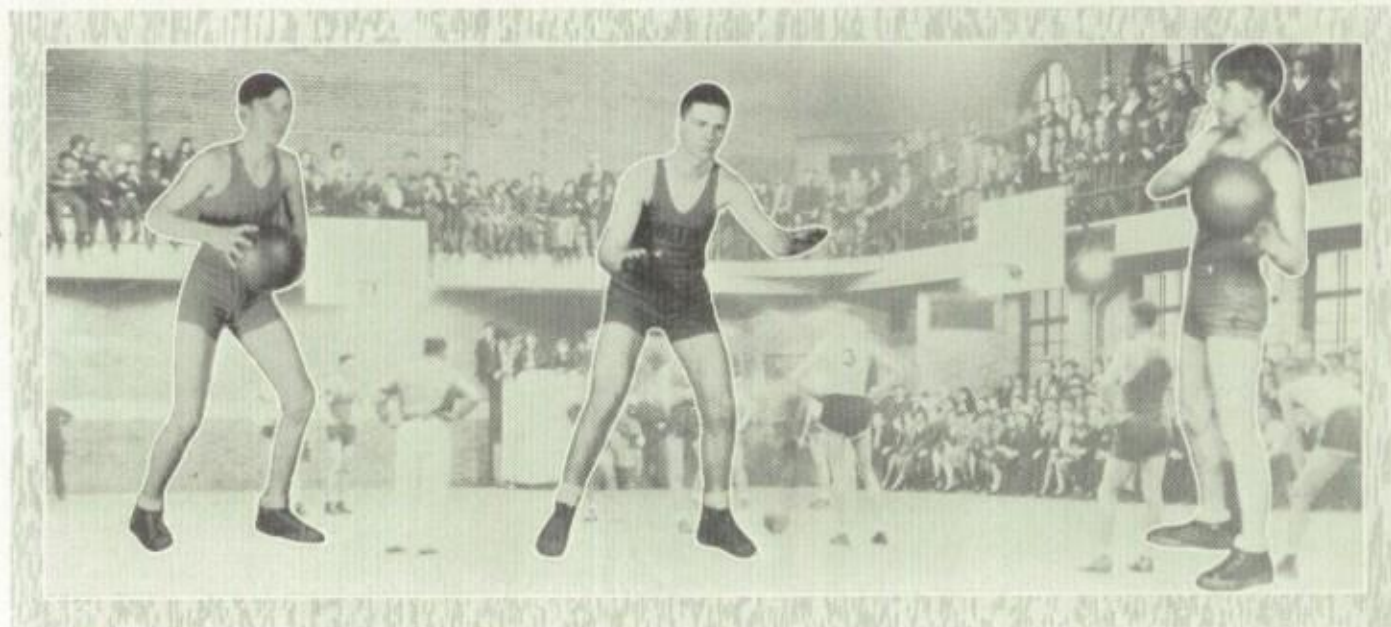

Redeemer 24 — St. Catherine 5

Redeemer opened its league season when Capt. Clancy led his men to an overwhelming victory over the new comers.

In the first half the game looked like an even match ending 3-2 in favor of the Lions, but the boys in Purple came back in the second half with an offence that completely bewildered their opponents, scoring 21 points.

Redeemer 11 — St. Anthony 13

On Jan. 9 the Lions renewed their feud with St. Anthony and came out of the battle second best. It was a close, hard fought contest, with "Cowboy" Roach leading the scoring for the Lions. Duva, Redeemer's "Mighty Atom" strove hard to stop the experienced "Tonymen" but fate decided against him.

Basketball Season

Redeemer 15 — St. Joseph 26

In the traditional battle with the Commercials, the Lions tasted the cup of defeat by the score of 26-15.

The Redeemerites fought hard, but were unable to stop the sterling offensive displayed by the Blue clad boys from the East side. Redeemer scored most of their points by their accurate shooting of fouls. The scoring hero in this was the long limbed Emmett Roach.

Redeemer 20 — De La Salle 28

On Jan. 23rd the Lions went down to defeat before the undefeated De La Salle team, in a fast game that was not decided until the last quarter. Once more Meier proved his worth to the team by being high point man, and his close guarding and accurate passing.

Redeemer 14 — Catholic Central 12

Redeemer defeated the Central boys by the slight margin of two points. The game was close and exciting and the lead was seldom held by either team for long. The expert ball handling of John Maher did much to put Redeemer on the winning end of the score.

Redeemer 19 — St. Anthony 21

The Lions again dropped a close game to their Jinxes. The Lords in Purple put up a stiff battle but when the game was over the Lions banner was trailed in the dust by the men of St. Anthony. It was an exciting contest from start to finish with the lead see-sawing back and forth between the hard fighting warriors but it was not in the books that Redeemer should win.

Redeemer 20 — De La Salle 25

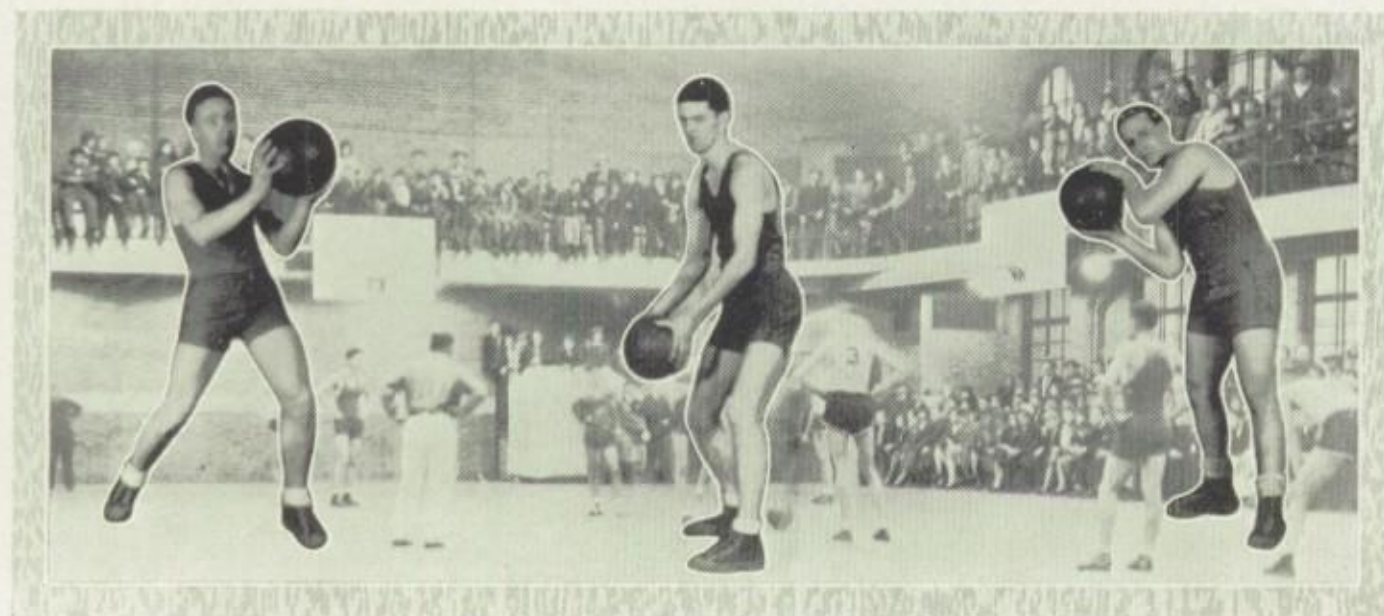

Again the Lions fell victims to the hard playing boys from De La Salle. This time at the Guardian Angel gym. The game was especially featured by the accurate shooting of Urban Meier and the clever work of Chuck Kantzler in his new position at Center. Although the boys fought hard the game ended with the Lions at the tail end of the Box Score.

Redeemer 18 — Alumni 8

On February 23, the Lions avenged themselves on the Alumni for the defeat earlier in the season. This time they were really determined to show the graduates what they had, and the spectacular shooting of Carmen Duva and the clever ball handling of the rest of the team so bewildered the hard playing "A's" that the Lion again marched off the court with the palm of Victory, firmly clutched in his claw.

Redeemer 21 — Catholic Central 17

On February 26, the Lions journeyed to Catholic Central and again administered a sound thrashing to the fast going boys in the blue and white. Owing to the smallness of the gym, both teams were forced to confine their offense to straight pass work, but due to the clever playing of Maher and Meier the boys in purple came through with a hard fought victory.

Basketball Reserves

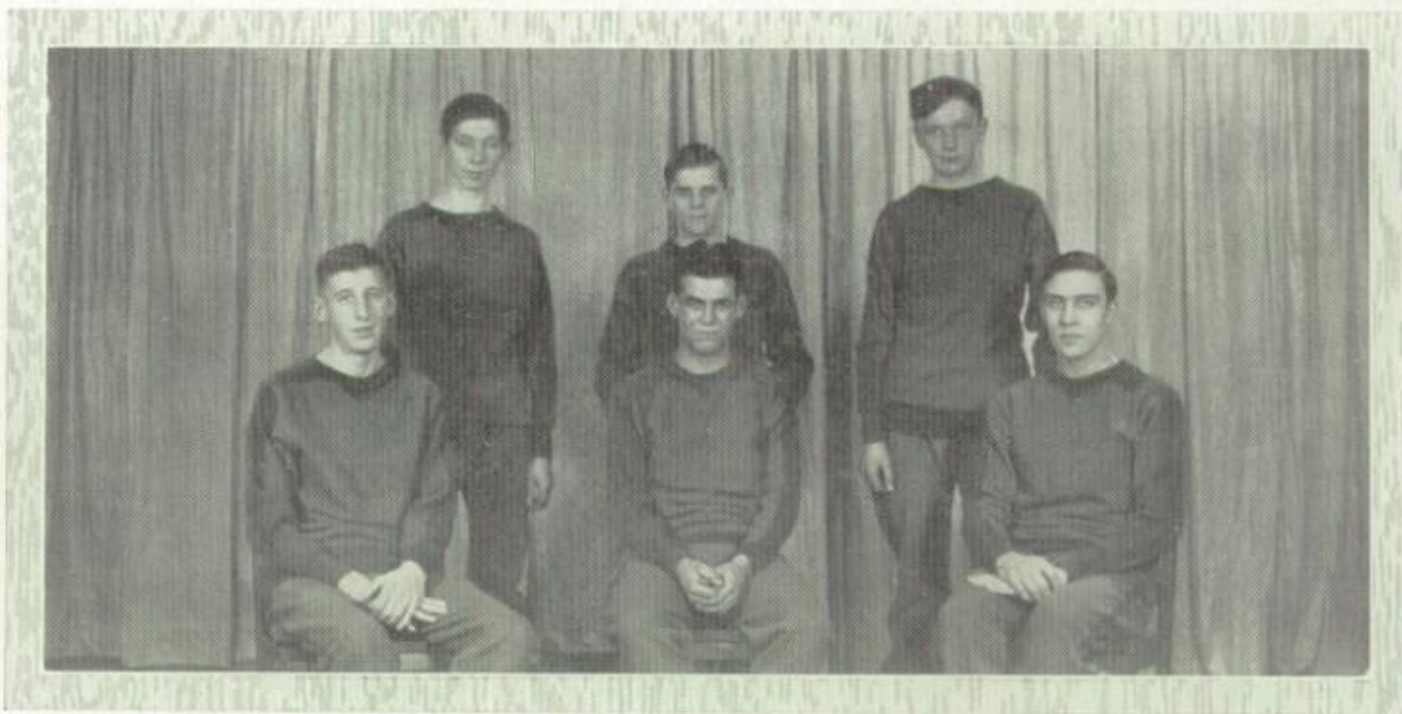

DURING the 1930-31 basketball season the Redeemer reserve team was very successful. They played games preliminary to the varsity with teams in the various divisions of the Southern Michigan Catholic League. In eleven games the Reserves scored 135 points compared to their opponents 126. Six games were won and four lost, with a tie game that went three overtime periods with St. Joseph completing the season's records.

Coach Crowe has been looking into the future of Redeemer's athletic activities, and developing reserve teams of the Freshman and Sophomore classes. He started a Freshman team at St. Leo's the year before he left and this team later took the championship of the C division for two consecutive years. This is what he has in view for the Lions in the coming years.

At the present the reserve team consists of eight Sophomores, a Junior, and a Freshman. Early in the season Maher, Kolbe, and Stuve of the reserve team were found to be good ball handlers and were used to strengthen the varsity.

Students of Redeemer may look to the near future for a Championship team which will be composed of our present reserves.

Intramural Champions

THE basketballers of Senior B went through a strenuous season with their record marred by only a single defeat which they encountered at the hands of their equals—Senior A. This fast moving quintet won the intramural championship by a decisive victory over the hard fighting aggregation from Sophomore A.

This super-team of Senior B is comprised of prominent members of the Senior class. D. Starrs and J. Fisher won fame on the grid-iron and proved to be equally clever on the basketball court, while D. Fieck, P. Montgomery, J. Freeman, E. Swader and G. Harrington have been playing intramural basketball together throughout their high school careers and have developed a smooth running basketball combination. J. Sullivan and H. Heitman added strength to the cagers.

Sophomore A took honors for second place, these cagers were the only obstacle to the Seniors and gave them fine competition. Members from this aggregation will be seen on the varsity basketball squad of '32. Senior A, a team of clever ball-handlers won the honors for third place.

This intramural competition gives every student in the high school an opportunity to participate in the school's athletic activities. It also develops material for the varsity teams in the years to come.

Athletic Banquet

THE evening of February 4th was one of the brightest events in the history of Holy Redeemer High School. Over two hundred students and parishoners gathered to pay tribute to the Redeemer Athletes.

This delightful Banquet was made possible through the efforts of Rev. Edward Smith, C. Ss. R. Members of the Married Ladies Sodality prepared the meal while the musical entertainment was furnished by the Blue Grass Serenaders.

James Crowley, All American halfback of Notre Dame's famous team of 1924, was guest of honor and principal speaker of the evening. Crowley's subject was "Sportsmanship." He entertained all with his wit.

Other speakers on the program were the Very Rev. Joseph Elenz C. Ss. R., our Rector; Leo A. Stebbins, president of the Southern Michigan Catholic High School League; Ray Phau, of the Michigan Catholic; Coach Crowe; and James Kerwin, toastmaster.

This Banquet was given in honor of the Boys' Football, Basketball, and Track team, and the Girls' Basketball team.

Coach Edward V. Crowe presented the following members with letters: Captain Urban Meier, Edward Clancy, Daniel Starrs, Emmett Roach, Earl Cash, Edward Buresh, John Fisher, Joseph Glaser, Chester Hastings, Chester Stuve, Hugh McShane, Edward La Cross, Jospheh Campau, Joseph Kulick, Edward Carter, John Maher, and Carmen Duva.

Marcellus Barlage was the lone track man at the Banquet.

Edward Duffy, student manager, also received a letter from the coach.

Girls' Basketball

ENCOURAGED by Redeemer's remarkable success in the first year of an official Girls' Athletic Department, the opening of the 1931 basketball season was welcomed enthusiastically by students interested in the sport. A large representation from each grade of the High School presented themselves to Mrs. Rentz at the first call for volunteers. A friendly rivalry persisted; for all craved the singular honor of wearing the purple and gold uniform significant of battles gained and victories won.

A. Cutcher
Captain

However, the task of selecting members for the varsity did not prove a difficult one, for only three experienced players had been lost to the team through graduation. With loyal Redeemer spirit, earnest and diligent practice was begun. Under the careful and interested guidance of Mrs. Rentz, prospective newcomers were drilled in the art of intricate floorwork and accurate passing, while veterans renewed their efforts and increased their skill. It was not surprising, therefore, that the team should present a formidable appearance to opponents when, after several weeks of hard, earnest work, the difficult schedule of games was initiated. Despite the dissolution of the Catholic League this year, interest in inter-scholastic matches had not waned, and it was but an easy task to draw up a complete schedule, which included some of the most experienced and successful schools in the League of 1930.

The Team opened the 1930-31 season by playing their neighborhood rivals, Western, at the opponent's gymnasium. The home team was no match for their older and more experienced foe and succumbed to the attack of the Western sextet after a determined game, the final score being 29-10.

Redeemer 19 — Northwestern 29

With somewhat subdued spirits, Redeemer returned from Northwestern gymnasium the following week, possessing the smaller end of the 29-19 score. Although defeated in our initial attempts, the experience gained in these two contests proved valuable to the team for the remainder of the season.

Redeemer 23 — St. Anthony 19

In the first game played with Catholic schools, Redeemer met and defeated St. Anthony's on the opponent's home floor. A well played game gave Redeemer a 23-19 victory.

Redeemer 30 — Gesu 16

The home season was opened by a spirited game with the Gesu team. The superior passing and teamwork of Redeemer completely bewildered Gesu and another game brought victory to our team.

Redeemer 28 — St. Anthony 10Redeemer 22 — St. Paul 9

Redeemer ran their total of successive victories to four in the next two games by defeating St. Anthony's 28-10 and St. Paul's of Grosse Pointe 22-9.

Redeemer 24 — St. Paul 25

The term was now smoothly sailing along the sea of victory when suddenly she was shaken from stem to stern by taking two successive defeats, the first setback coming from St. Ambrose, 19-16. St. Paul's of Grosse Pointe were the next conquerors of the "purple and gold," winning the return game on their home floor by the narrowest of margins, 25-24.

Redeemer 25 — St. Joseph 17

These two defeats had aroused the girls to a determination not to be daunted. The schedule now called for a game at Adrian with St. Joseph. The way was a long and difficult one, but a conquering team reported an amazing victory to the unfortunate ones who had to remain at home.

Redeemer 24 — St. Ambrose 26

St. Ambrose again defeated Redeemer, this time at their gymnasium. It was another hotly contested game and the visitors lost only after a desperate struggle. The final score was 26-24.

Redeemer 23 — Alumnae 10

Redeemer 25 — Alumnae 10

In the next two games Redeemer proved to the Alumnae that the varsity was the superior team by trouncing the graduates 23-10 in the first game, and 25-10 in the second game. This game was the final one of the season for the varsity and also marked the athletic farewell of four Senior girls: Alice Cutcher, captain and forward; Lydia Michalski, stellar guard; Helen Sinnott, lanky jumping center; and Mary Ouellette, forward. It was a glowing finis to a brilliant athletic career for these girls on the court.

Intramural Champions

THE Freshmen of Room 102 again triumphed over the upper classmen and clinched the intra-mural championship by winning eight straight games. Inexperienced but determined, they entered each contest with a determination not to be daunted. At the first call for volunteers the response was so great that the class was divided into two teams, each room being represented in the school league. These girls learned the fundamentals of the game with such alacrity that by the end of the first half of the season one freshman, Angela Pierce, had merited a place on the Varsity team.

The Freshmen met and easily defeated each team of the high school twice during the season, the Sophomore class being the only team to seriously threaten the young athletes. With such excellent playing from the younger members of the school the outlook for the athletic success of Redeemer is exceedingly bright.

The champions had dependable and earnest players for every department of the game. The forward positions were well taken care of by the excellent shooting of Ellen Roach, Clara Schagger, and Edna Paddock. In the center, there were few girls who could outplay Leona Grosbeck and Violet Visger. The defense proved to be invincible due to the stellar guarding of Helen Ouellette, captain, Marie Rosbury, Mildred Panyard and Lois McCann.

Parochial Champions

IT FELL to the lot of the team from the seventh and eighth grades to break the jinx that has been upon Redeemer teams for the last few years and bring a championship to the school. The Lion Cubs were entered in the Grade School Tournament held at St. Theresa's and proved themselves capable by bringing home the trophy.

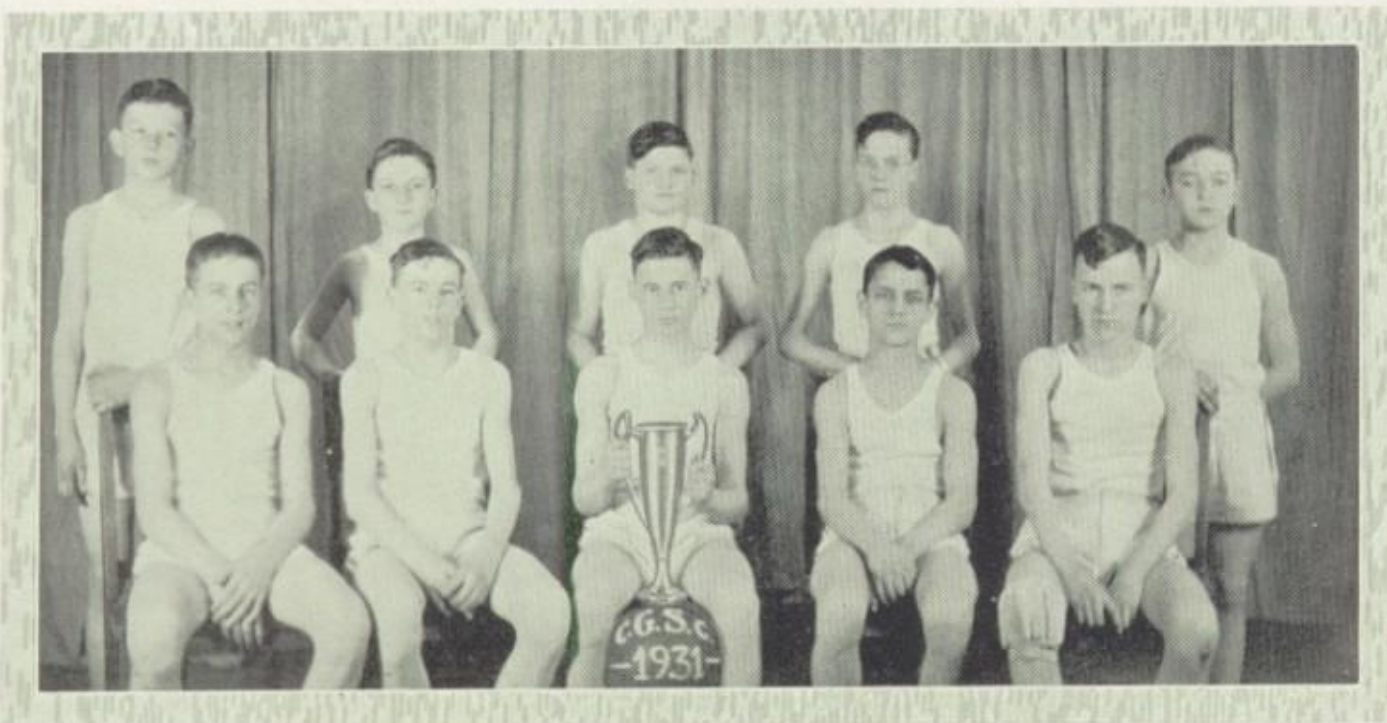

The first to meet defeat at the hands of the Cubs was St. Theresa's, the favorite of the tournament. The victors had to fight an up-hill battle, coming from behind in the last three minutes of play to win, 19-18.

In the second contest St. Dominic's found itself no match for the young Lions and went down to defeat, 18-11.

In the play-off for the championship the Cubs gave all they had and showed the spectators just why they should receive the trophy. From the opening whistle to the end of the game they had St. Ambrose's completely baffled. The score at the first half was 10-4. In the second half the Cubs did not allow their opponents to score a single point while they added 12 for a 22-4 victory.

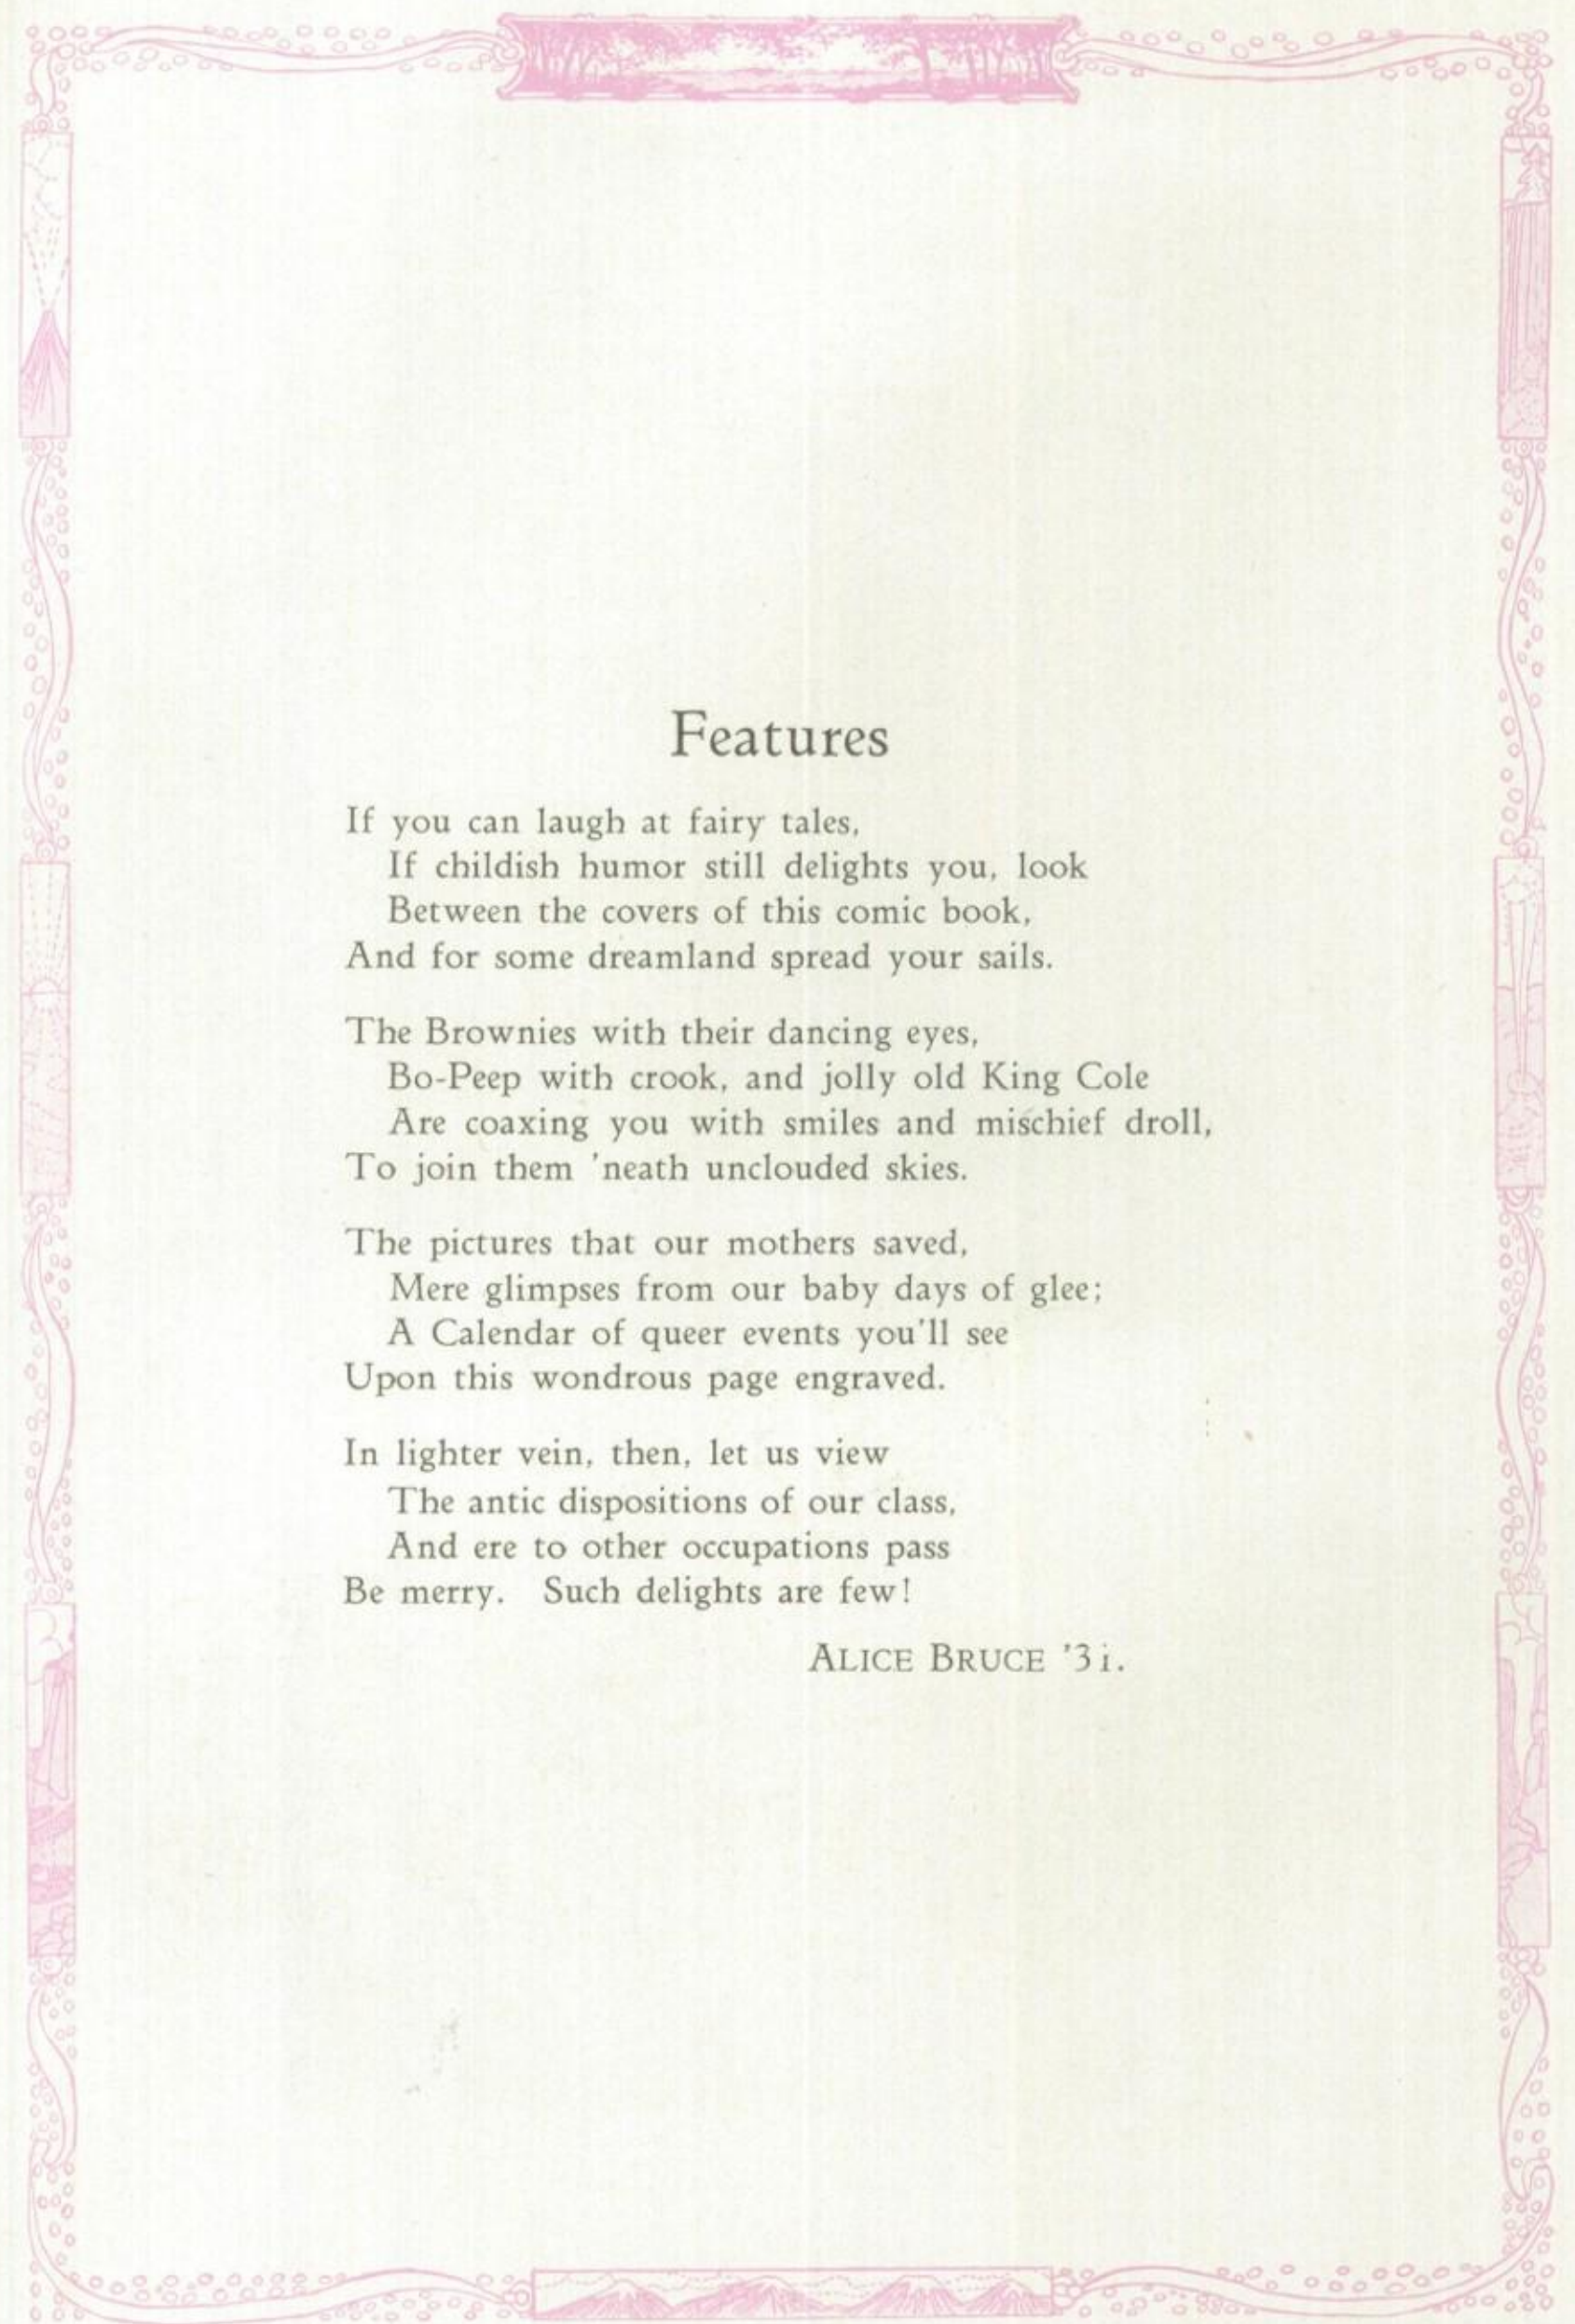

The trophy, a very beautiful silver loving cup was donated by Judge John Scallen of Records Court. He attended the St. Ambrose game at the end of which he presented the cup to Captain Glenn Steffes and the members of the team.

Grade School Champions

Seated: P. Maher, R. Kelly, G. Steffes, D. Leach, L. Doyle.
Standing: C. Kolbe, G. Kolbe, T. Trahey, J. Traut, T. Morrissey.

Features

If you can laugh at fairy tales,
If childish humor still delights you, look
Between the covers of this comic book,
And for some dreamland spread your sails.

The Brownies with their dancing eyes,
Bo-Peep with crook, and jolly old King Cole
Are coaxing you with smiles and mischief droll,
To join them 'neath unclouded skies.

The pictures that our mothers saved,
Mere glimpses from our baby days of glee;
A Calendar of queer events you'll see
Upon this wondrous page engraved.

In lighter vein, then, let us view
The antic dispositions of our class,
And ere to other occupations pass
Be merry. Such delights are few!

ALICE BRUCE '31.

Well, now that some of us have completed our sentence and look back over the days or daze of imprisonment we must admit they were not so bad after all and that we did to no little extent manage to have a good time. And even if our teachers are glad to get rid of us I have a sneaky feeling they enjoyed some of the fun too.

Now take those pep meetings for example. Will anyone ever be able to forget 'Red' Mulheisen and the way he tried so hard to snap-up the school song or the time he became acrobatic, got tangled up in a rug and climaxed the stunt with a demonstration of how a horizontal cheer leader looked when embarrassed. Then there was the return of Father Chapoton with his 'moral and financial support.'

The annual pep parade on the eve of Thanksgiving must be mentioned because Ed. Buresh won the prize and split with the judges. Those who tried for the squad during the Fall training probably saw more stars than the newspaper reporters but were satisfied since it provided a good reason for taking the day off.

Do you remember how we fought to have an Annual, organized a staff and were all steamed up for about a week selling ads. until finally we realized that the only kick in being salesmen was out the door.

The Feather Party was another example of how much we delighted in going to school, for who wouldn't spend a dime to stroll around the gym and take a chance on being able to provide the family with some kind of bird for the Thanksgiving dinner.

Having Brother Charles or Mr. Devereux snap our profile was a big event. Of course we were never satisfied for the camera after all is limited in its ability to work miracles. Although there were no serious casualties, the Juniors sure did fight a terrible battle over the choice of rings. When the noise and din of many voices had blown away so had one of the rings.

Of course some days were blue, we must admit and dashing up to the second floor just before the second bell to get a blue book never did help matters much. They were lonesome days, those period test days. No-one to talk to, nothing to write and nothing in sight but the watchful eyes of the teacher.

Say, but didn't Hayes and Sullivan and Davis and the rest of the fellows make good cigar store ads. during the Pageant? What did you think of Howard's make-up? Some slicker, eh? George and Casey were fakes as Brothers but Buresh fit his part.

The least said about the Christmas Vacation would be too much. We all must admit, though, that catching up in our sleep was one thing we did well—during the day.

One thing will never be settled and that is why Fisher beat Howard and how Howard did it. Those Alumni Smokers were great—for those who could sit and smoke and watch some poor leather artist draw his figure on the floor. Thanks to Father Smith, the Athletic Banquet was a success. Even the dinner was great.

Father and Son Day went over big. For some reason or other Dad seemed to be in a good mood and we had a real time. The program in the auditorium was the best in years in spite of Potsey, his band and the crooning Senior Glee Club. The little sketch on this page in the upper right hand corner was sketched by our staff artist that we might always remember the charming young ladies whose attractive qualities made the Bridge Party such a success.

It is with pride that we recall the compliment paid Redeemer in having our gym chosen for the State Basketball Tournament. It was so convenient too, and really very economical, especially for those acquainted with the various possible entrances. And the class games! OW-AH! Were they rough and tough! Well, if we are to have good football teams the fellows must get a workout sometime and where could one find better opportunity for displaying a perfect straight-arm than on the basketball floor. Of course we'll never forget how the Sophs tried to pull a fast one on us in that play-off game. But we didn't fall on our heads either. We had the better team anyway because we admit it.

Roy Wint showed himself as good a sport in business as he was a good athlete in high school. That radio he offered the Annual Staff helped us a plenty. Besides it presented an opportunity for the grades to contribute toward the painting of the church.

Although contrary to our principles we have to doff our chapeaux to the Seventh and Eighth Grades for bringing to the School another trophy. Later as old, dignified and bald alumni, we hope to return and help these boys celebrate greater championships.

Since we are mentioning things to remember, let us not forget Miloch and that yellow, green and black tie he brought back with him after Easter. All the Brothers had to get sun-glasses or go blind. And say did those Juniors put the paper drive over in a big way? Twenty tons in two weeks! Not bad at all and Thanks!

The way Fisher and Miloch went at each other on that Chain Store question in debate we all imagined they had a personal grudge to settle. At present writing we don't know who won the cup so kindly donated by Father Elenz but we do know something about chain stores and independents. In fact we feel that neither is safe so we're going to open a store of our own just as soon as this period of depression is lifted.

Was the Alumni Ball a success? And How! In spite of hard times we saved our dimes and made our choice, were turned down a few times and finally discovered a companion and shouted 'On with the dance!'

Those balmy days of spring! Playing ball in the yard was always expensive for Meier. He always insisted on being a window crasher.

And then that hilarious trip to Bob-Lo. Finally graduation and we leave it all feeling happy and still somewhat sad.

THE MARYGROVE IDEA

The MARYGROVE graduate is a BACHELOR of ARTS—in our Catholic Culture, an ART means the RIGHT WAY OF DOING A THING—and the degree is granted, not for a mechanical accumulation of "credit hours" or miscellaneous "points," but for the proved possession of those RIGHT WAYS OF DOING THINGS, those ARTS, those POSITIVE and distinctive PERSONAL POWERS that have always characterized the AUTHENTIC Bachelor of Arts.

FACULTY—Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, assisted by a corps of distinguished lay and clerical professors, all with higher university degrees.
